PREMIER FIDEL CASTRO
A document worth $71 million

'WILL OF THE PEOPLE'

Million Hail 'Chief' Castro

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro was swept back into the Cuban premiership Sunday night by an enormous popular demonstration he had called for the purpose.

The spectacular crowd estimated at nearly 1,000,000 cheered wildly as he told them he would bow to "the will of the people" and resume office.

The sea of humanity sent up reverberating cheers as Castro, by inference, told off critics in the United States.

The 32-year-old revolutionary leader asserted that Cuba is not a protectorate or colony of any other country but a free sovereign nation and "we have to account to no one."

Castro said Cuba wants to be friends with all nations but cannot be with those "who offend us, who insult us and who exploit us" or with any vested interest which tries to "impose itself on the destiny of our people."

In 2½ hours of talk, Castro did not mention Communism. He referred to it only obliquely, when hitting at his critics, but apparently did not feel it necessary to deny their charges that he is letting the Reds influence his government.

Machete Symbol of Revolution

Uptown Havana's vast Civica Plaza was packed with the shouting, cheering throng. Castro told it emotionally that from now on the "symbol of our revolution will be the machete" — the long, sharp knife used for cutting sugar cane.

The announcement provoked furious response during which some 400,000 campesinos — farmers — brought from the provinces to swell the demonstration, clashed their machetes together in unison to add to the general uproar.

Castro whipped up another ovation when he added that if his enemies should ever think of coming back to Cuba: "Let them contemplate for just about five minutes those machetes."

Castro made it clear that such mammoth demonstrations will be held whenever it is considered necessary to demonstrate popular support for his policies. Sunday's, officially celebrating the anniversary of his 26th of July revolutionary movement, was called originally to demonstrate support for his land redistributing propram.

Thousand Doves, Candy From Sky

Castro said it was only the will of the people that persuaded him to resume the premiership he left nine days ago to force the resignation of provisional president Manuel Uruttia.

The first announcement of his return to office came from President Osvaldo Dorticos, Urrutia's successor. It set off a wild, jubilant ovation, with the campesinos joyously throwing straw hats into the air. Castro had announced he would leave the decision to the people.

Enormous showmanship went into making the rally [illegible] the spectacular thing it was. Gimmicks included the release of a thousand doves as Castro made his appearance and release of hundreds of red, white and blue balloons trailing the black and red colors of the 26th of July movement.

Planes and helicopters zoomed low overhead, dropping small, multi-colored parachutes containing candy.

Before the speech, a cabinet minister presented Castro with evidence of recovery of $20,000,000 in cash and $51,000,000 worth of property from collaborators of Batista.

SWEETHEARTS INSURED

No Love Lost

BIRMINGHAM, England (Reuters) — Latins may be lousy lovers, but worried English swains aren't taking any chances.

They're taking out insurance on girl friends who vacation on the continent just in case they fall for those dilated nostrils and impassioned looks of foreign Romeos.

One Birmingham insurance broker reported that 200 young men had taken out policies which pay £1,000 if their fiancees break off the engagement and marry a continental.

Premiums are highest for girls between 17 and 25—30s for £100—and lower for those from 25 to 30. Women over 30 are considered a safe risk.

West Plans Big Three Meet Soon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Diplomatic sources said today that President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and President Charles de Gaulle of France probably will meet in Paris in late August or September.

The sources predicted the Western Big Three would get together either to prepare for a summit conference with Russia if an agreement for a summit meeting is reached at Geneva, or to discuss strategy if the Geneva talks fail.

The informants said that the Western chiefs probably would meet in late August if the foreign ministers' conference breaks up in complete deadlock and the Berlin crisis is intensified.

No firm agreement has been made for the Western Big Three talks but diplomatic sources said the plan has figured in high-level discussions of the allied steps to follow the Geneva talks.

A western meeting probably would be held simultaneously with a NATO heads-of-government meeting.

In either event, the sources said, this would enable Eisenhower and de Gaulle to meet and hold their long-postponed discussion of the U.S.-French disagreements.

PEARSON URGES SUMMIT NOW

MONTREAL (CP) — The Geneva foreign ministers' conference should be ended and a summit conference held as soon as possible, former external affairs minister Lester Pearson said Sunday.

"It seems that Mr. Khrushchev is reserving all the big decisions for himself, so the Western powers might just as well meet him at the summit now," Mr. Pearson told a press conference before sailing for Europe.

RUSSIANS UNBENDING AT GENEVA

GENEVA (UPI) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko failed today to give a hoped-for indication that Russia was ready to agree to a Berlin truce with the West on other than Soviet terms.

Gromyko conferred for two hours over lunch with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. Reliable big four conference sources said the Russian did not produce an anticipated move that might break the Geneva deadlock and perhaps point toward a summit meeting.

The meeting came in the ninth gloomy week of the talks. Only this weekend the U.S. and Britain shelved their wide-open differences on summit policy and began to press the Soviets for a quick Berlin solution.

Huge Forest Fire Licks At Village

ST. BERNARD DES LACS Que. (CP)—A blazing forest inferno, whipped madly by winds gusting to 40 miles an hour today threatened to destroy this remote Gaspe community.

The villagers were told early today to flee their homes in government trucks as the forest fire nibbled at the outskirts, demolishing four or five farm buildings.

Other small communities in this rugged woodland area of the Gaspe Peninsula were reported in fear that the spreading holocaust may also engulf them unless rain halts the flames.

"The situation is alarming," said Mayor Edouard Keable of nearby Cap Chat, a town of 2,000 people on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River.

Nixon Treated Warmly Despite 'Runaround'

(See Page 7)

LENINGRAD (UPI)—U.S. Vice-President Richard Nixon got a friendly welcome to Leningrad today. But after a "runaround" in touring the Soviet ice breaker Lenin, he put the pressure on and saw to it that Vice-Adm. Hyman G. Rickover got a thorough look at the vessel.

Rickover, who had complained after a one-hour tour of the nuclear-powered ship that he was getting a runaround, was invited to stay longer. After staying for another three hours, he said:

"I could see everything I wanted to see. They asked, 'were you satisfied?' I said, 'no, but I'm pleased.'

"I don't think any American has had the opportunity to see what I saw. I am the first American to have the opportunity to see the entire (reactor) plant."

'They've Done Good Job' Says Admiral

Rickover said the 1,600-ton ship has three reactors which *are no more advanced in de*sign than our reactors. The design is adequate for their purposes. You can't say that one type of reactor is superior to another."

He added that "they have nothing new in the way of electronic control. They are trying out these things. They have done a very creditable job and served their purpose. They have done a good job and I suggest that you (the reporters ac*companying Nixon)* say so in your stories."

Nixon flew here from Moscow on a Soviet TU-104 jet on the second leg of his "peace and friendship" swing through the Soviet Union.

Nixon, Mrs. Nixon, and the rest of his entourage got a hearty welcome from some [illegible] port along with Soviet first deputy premier and Mrs. Frol Kozlov, who at the last moment were surprise additions to the passenger list.

On his arrival Nixon told the crowd at the sun-drenched airport that he and Premier Khrushchev agreed during their talks that "differences between nations must be settled at the conference table and not on the battlefield."

"So my message to the people of Leningrad from the people of the United States is peace for all the world," Nixon said.

Challenge Sparks War Talk

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (Reuters) — The United Arab Republic put its naval might on display today following a threat by President Gamal Abdel Nasser to "exterminate Israel."

Nasser reviewed the fleet in a windup of celebrations marking the seventh anniversary of the revolution that overthrew King Farouk.

The UAR president made one of his most violent attacks on Israel Sunday night, the third anniversary of Egypt's nationalization of the Suez Canal. He said his country wants a decisive battle with Israel and "this time we will exterminate Israel."

Nasser referred to the Jewish state as a "crime established by treachery and imperialism."

In his bristling, confident speech, Nasser said he wanted to reply to what he called menacing statements from Moshe Dayan, former Israeli chief of staff.

"If Dayan is talking about a battle, we accept this challenge," Nasser said. "All Arabs want a showdown battle to wipe out the crime of 1948" —a reference to the creation of Israel.

"When they (Israel) attacked us in 1956 our orders were not to strike at cities, but in the next battle we shall erase Israel," Nasser declared.

LET THEM COME

He said Dayan was talking "insolently" about a new invasion.

"We await them and any*body else who may back them,"* said Nasser.

He cited the UAR's new industrialization program as grounds for optimism. He said the UAR soon will promise its own armored cars, tanks and planes.

"The industrial revolution in our country is a rope tightening around Israel's neck," he added.

Nasser was speaking at a ceremony commemorating Egypt's nationalization of the

QUEEN RESTS WITH A BOOK

PORT HOPE, Ont. (CP)—The Queen and Prince Philip read for relaxation today as they began a quiet day of rest at Batterwood House, the summer home of Governor-General Massey near this Lake Ontario town.

They will leave for the RCAF station at Trenton on Tuesday, and fly to Fredericton, N.B., to begin a tour of the Maritimes.

Strike To Grow On Wednesday

One of the worst labor crises in B.C.'s history faces the province today with its two biggest industries completely shut down by strikes involving 32,500 workers.

No break was reported today in the three-week-old coast lumber walkout, while the province's complete salmon fishing fleet became idle after 5,500 fishermen went on strike Saturday.

Some 3,650 fish cannery workers and tendermen continued to work today to prevent fish spoilage, but will join the striking fishermen Wednesday.

United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union set 11 a.m. Wednesday as the deadline but said it would continue to handle fish unloaded at plants by midnight today "provided the salmon was caught prior to midnight Sunday."

[illegible] fish groups all want more money, either in the form of direct wages or, in the case of the tendermen, as a bonus on the amount handled.

Two *mainland lumber com*panies have broken away from Forest Industrial Relations and signed agreements with some 80 members of the striking coast woodworkers it was learned today.

Joe Madden, president of Local 1-357 in New Westminster of the International Woodworkers of America, told The Times both companies agreed to pay wage increases.

SPECIAL SESSION REJECTED

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks today rejected a proposal by Opposition Leader Robert Strachan that B.C's current labor unrest should be dealt with in a special session of the Legislature.

The minister said the only step the legislature could take would be to order compulsory arbitration in the fishing and lumber strikes.

"But this has not been acceptable to this point. If Mr. Strachan is proposing this, why doesn't he say so. I can only presume that is what is in the back of his mind."

PRAYER FOR TODAY

PARIS PRESENTS THE LONG LOOK FOR FALL

Lolita's the Fashion—But Modest

PARIS (UPI) — Lolita hit the high-fashion scene today—the second day of the Paris fall collections—but she was not like the young nymphet heroine of Vladimir Nabokov's best-selling novel.

She was the creation of 27-year-old dressmaker Michel Goma. He showed a sophisticated, long-torsoed line to the world press today.

His skirts were a shade longer than last year — about half an inch — putting them about 19½ inches from the floor.

Lolita herself was a discreet but grown-up lilac daytime dress with a belt that dropped below the waist at back and a skirt gathered in front under a bow to emphasize the hips.

A companion dress was called "Nymphet." Both were more girlish than the series of sophisticated black dresses that followed.

These black dresses had backs bare to the waist, but high necklines in front. One of them had an overskirt which slit up the side.

Jean Patou's line is the personification of the "long" tall line. It makes a woman look slim, sophisticated and reedlike from the accentuated shoulder line to the long hipline, which tapers straight to the top of the calf.

Patou uses many bright reds, touches of dark purple, yellows and clear blues. But the dominating color tended to be brown . . . when it was not used in one of its variations, it accessorized an outfit.

There was also a profusion of white used with black for later afternoon wear.

Patou draped bustlines for daytime wear. He revealed them for evening.

MIAMI, Fla.—Miami's bomb shelter honeymooners emerged from their bower 12 feet underground Sunday, blinking like owls at the sunshine they had not seen for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mininson were married July 12 a few minutes before they climbed down a steep ladder into the white cement enclosure seven by 6½ feet. The honeymoon was a promotion stunt for backyard bomb shelters.

"The first week went by like a breeze," said 28-year-old Mel. "The second week we counted the days and hours. We could not wait to get out."

He grew a mustache and full set of whiskers while honeymooning 10 feet underground.

Maria Mininson, slim in white toreador pants and a black blouse, took a deep breath of the fresh air as she emerged and said:

"We're dying to go on our real honeymoon."

MOVED ON EGYPT

Israel forces invaded the Egyptian Sinai Peninsula Oct. 29, 1956, a week before British and French paratroopers struck the canal zone in the Anglo-French intervention.

Since the 1956 dispute, Egypt has barred the Suez Canal to Israeli ships and ships carrying Israeli cargo. The Danish freighter Inge Toft, carrying a cargo of Israeli potash, cement and marble, has been detained in port since last May.

Dayan urged last week that Israel meet Egypt "hostility for hostility."

In an article in the Jerusalem Post, Dayan said:

"I do not believe we can obtain any concessions from Egypt by diplomatic means . . . Egypt should know that as long as she maintains this policy of hostility toward us, we shall seek and find the right time and occasion to strike back."

NO PROVOCATION

But Dayan cautioned:

"I do not mean we should provoke an occasion or fabricate an excuse. This must not be done, and if it were, it would not stand the test of practical policy . . . our desire for peace and its over-riding importance is axiomatic."

Dayan quit the army to enter politics. He now is the leader of a large group of so-called "angry young men" in Premier David Ben-Gurion's socialist Mapai party.

PHILIP ROMPS

Resting Queen Phones Home

PORT HOPE, Ont. (CP)—The Queen telephoned her family in England and Prince Philip romped in a swimming pool at Batterwood House, Sunday, as they relaxed in restful seclusion on the second holiday of the Royal tour.

The trip to Old St. Mark's Anglican Church for Sunday services was the only public engagement of the day.

Afterwards they had a quiet buffet luncheon and took things easy at Governor-General Massey's red-brick home four miles from this Lake Ontario community of 7,500.

During the afternoon, the Queen spoke by telephone to Prince Charles and Princess Anne and Queen Mother Elizabeth. She presumably was filled in on such news as a London newspaper report that Anne had undergone an examination which indicated she may need glasses.

SWIM FOR PHILIP

Meanwhile, Philip went for a swim in the hedge-hidden swimming pool on the estate with the Governor General's son, Lionel, and his three daughters, Jane, 10, Evva, 9, and Susan, 7.

Later the royal couple went for a walk through the gardens of Batterwood, wandering along its maze of paths, through its courtyard and formal rose garden.

The holiday began Saturday night when the royal couple reached Batterwood after a 40-mile drive from Trenton, where their plane landed after a trip from Sudbury.

QUEEN WEARY

The Queen appeared tired on her arrival at Batterwood, and also looked a little weary while attending church services Sunday, suggesting that perhaps the respite here is a necessary one.

The simple, attractive decor of 137-year-old St. Mark's, nestled among the trees on top of Port Hope's Protestant Hill, fitted the informality of the occasion.

The Queen wore a tangerine green and white silk print dress with closely-fitting organza hat.

Philip read the New Testament lesson, Philippians III, versus 7-21, upon which Rev. G. E. Moffatt, the rector, based his sermon. Mr. Massey, a regular attendant at the church, read the lesson from the Old Testament, I Kings 17.

Some 300 members and guests filled St. Mark's and more than 1,000 sat or stood outside, listening to the service over public address systems.

FIRES, RIOTS TERRORIZE TOWN

'Wild Ones' Go Crazy

KRISTIANSTAD, Sweden (UPI)—Two hundred of Sweden's "wild ones" roared out of this small southern Swedish town in souped up American jalopies today to the relief of the townspeople they had terrorized in violent weekend rioting.

Behind them they left a shambles of part of the town, burned down public restrooms, broken windows, 20 persons in hospitals—and a legacy of fear.

It was the first such happening in this quiet town of 27,000, which straddles the main Stockholme-Malmoe Road. Its peaceful squares, cobbled streets and trim lawns never before had been so disturbed.

The mobsters, whose idol is Marlon Brando, first hit the town early Saturday, apparently to watch the Grand Prix motorcycle races Sunday.

Within minutes their shiny motor bikes and "hot rods" were parked all over the place and their leather-jacketed figures began strutting the sidewalks. Fights broke out when they pushed local pedestrians into the gutters. This was the signal for a mob rampage.

They swarmed through the temporary camping site set up for the races and started pitched battles with the town's tiny police force. Police reinforcements rushed in from neighboring towns were unable to deal with them. Tents were set ablaze and the fire trucks bombarded with bricks and "Molotov cocktails" when they tried to get through. Army units were called in.

The mob's girl friends joined in. Several were seen staggering along, drunk, stripped to the waist. The clashes went on until 4 a.m. Sunday. By that time 30 hoodlums had been arrested.

The "hot-rodders" hung around the town threatening reprisals against the police.

Anger in Japan

WHEN CANADA RECENTLY restricted textile imports from Japan it was not to be expected that the Japanese people would overlook this serious blow to their trade.

Already the new Canadian policy seems to be widely understood and deeply resented in Japan. Typical of its reaction is an article in The Japan Times under the caption: "If tariffs are raised, Japan can slash imports of grains from Canada."

Reading this pretty blunt threat, Canadian farmers will remember that they sell large quantities of grain in the Japanese market as our mines sell large quantities of ore and coal.

"Opinion is gaining ground among Japanese Government officials," says The Japan Times, "that this country should consider reducing imports of barley and wheat from Canada if that country raises its tariffs on Japanes textile goods."

Actually Canadian tariffs have not been raised but the desired protection of our textile industry has been secured by a "voluntary" reduction of Japanese exports under the Canadian Government's strong pressure.

Japanese government officials, The Japan Times reports, believe that imports of Canadian grains can easily be reduced "because the price of Canadian barley is higher than that of its American counterpart. Japan can cut the volume of barley imports drastically, they believe. Wheat imports from Canada, they think, can also be reduced drastically as Japan now has sufficient rice on hand . . . and the demand for bread requiring Canadian wheat imports seems to have reached a limit."

These views are not surprising. Japan already is buying from Canada far more than it sells here and can easily take its business elsewhere if it is not allowed to pay for our goods with its own. To protect the central Canadian textile industry (at the cost of higher prices) we are likely to reduce our exports, especially from western Canada—this at a time when we need every overseas market we can find.

Too Many Going to Jail

DR. GILBERT KENNEDY, deputy attorney-general, has expressed the view that the alarmingly large number of persons British Columbia sends to prison would be reduced if the probation service were strengthened numerically.

His statement is particularly timely as the Community Welfare Council of Greater Victoria, the Community Chest and the Family and Children's Service continue their campaign to secure a joint family and juvenile court for this community. Such an institution, apart from its direct court work, could succeed only with the establishment of an adequate probation service. This is a fact recognized by the Greater Victoria social welfare agencies now engaged in efforts to obtain better means of handling difficulties of the family and the problem youngster. That is the underlying purpose of their approach to city and municipal councils of the community.

Spokesmen for this campaign have compiled a cogent brief. It indicates the number of cases that come to notice in the Greater Victoria area and presents comparative statistics showing that this capital sends more children into detention than many others because it has no satisfactory facilities for dealing with them in a more constructive way.

The tables in the brief, as well as the argument, command attention.

From various groups the family-juvenile court champions have received assurances of moral support—some of it from the city.

This is encouraging, but support will remain ineffective if it remains moral only. The councils should act—first by notifying the attorney general that they want such a court.

It is difficult, of course, to set down in dollars and cents what a combined court, with complementary probation, counselling and rehabilitation services would cost the Greater Victoria district. On the other hand, when various municipal authorities within the area tote up the costs of present services, including individual juvenile courts, they may be justified in assuming that a single agency covering the whole field would perhaps save money.

Even if it were more expensive, the municipalities concerned must weigh those costs against the tangible and intangible expense of a system which sends so many children into detention.

The cost of maintaining one or two children in the girls' or boys' industrial school, for instance, could quite easily offset the total salary of a probation officer skilled in methods of saving youngsters from turning to lives which lodge them in jail and lead to later careers in crime.

While action to provide a better method of handling the situation is delayed — and the combined family and children's court with auxiliary services promises improvement—more boys and girls are getting into trouble, more families are breaking up. The cost of that situation cannot be measured completely in dollars—but even in hard cash it is too much.

The deputy attorney-general's opinion on the high number of commitals seems to endorse that point.

Apprentice Diplomats

IT'S NO WONDER THAT CANADA has been able to build a foreign service admired by the whole world. The men and women who provide it must undergo an apprenticeship which must be stricter than in any other profession.

More than a thousand graduates of our universities will apply for jobs in the external affairs department this year, according to MacLean's Magazine. About 900 will be allowed to write a general civil service examination. Roughly half of them will do well enough to write the foreign service test. The top hundred or so in this test will be interviewed by a five-man board of experts in all aspects of foreign affairs and they will be grilled in their personal habits, their hobbies, reading, ambitions and motives.

The examining board will then recommend some fifty applicants, but only thirty will be offered jobs, starting at $4,200 a year. The best thirty out of a thousand ought to be able servants of the state, but their apprenticeship only begins when they are appointed. For at least two years they must remain in Ottawa learning their profession before they go abroad to represent Canada. By that time they should be the sort of representatives we need.

Coffee on Sussex Street

MR. JOHN BIRD, THE ABLE correspondent of The Toronto Star in Ottawa, recently enjoyed himself at Mr. Diefenbaker's garden party for Parliament and press.

"For six years," Mr. Bird writes, "your correspondent has looked in vain for a cup of coffee at the endless round of cocktail parties which afflict life in Ottawa—and found it, at last, at 24 Sussex Street. Three cheers, and a tiger, with the hope that other hosts will hereafter provide coffee for people who don't want alcohol. There are plenty of them."

Some other guests of the Prime Minister apparently did not enjoy his "dry" garden party as well as Mr. Bird, a teetotaler. But most Canadians, we think, will agree that the Prime Minister, like any other host, is entitled to entertain his friends in his own home exactly as he pleases. If he is opposed to the use of alcohol, that is strictly his own business. And he is to be praised for putting his personal principles ahead of social fashions.

FROM WASHINGTON

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Cuba and Communism

Lippmann

SHORTLY after Dr. Castro brought his revolution to power in Cuba, the Governor of Puerto Rico, Mr. Munoz-Martin, came up to Washington. He came to give us advice which he was pre-eminently qualified to do. For he had been carrying through successfully a peaceable revolution in his own country, he had the personal confidence of the Cuban revolutionists, and he was and is our very great friend.

Even then, at the beginning, he foresaw the troubles in Cuba, the stubborn difficulties against which the revolution was waged and which it then inherited, the inexperience and the emotional instability of its fighting leaders.

Whatever you do, he said in effect, do not let yourselves become enemies of this revolution. For this revolution is the real thing. It is not a mere change of the guard at the top as is so common in Latin America. This is a popular revolution of the sort which, more than thirty years ago, Mexico went through, and after years of blood and tears brought to a happy ending.

It requires great skill to manage our relations with a revolution of this character in a country which is such a very near neighbor. We have to find ways of reconciling our political and economic interests with a revolution which cannot be stabilized until the chief grievances which produced the revolution have been redressed. This can be managed only if the American Ambassador in Havana can work out a relationship with the revolutionary leaders in which they will listen to him, and even seek his advice and his help.

Delicate Mission

There is good reason to say that we have such an Ambassador in Havana, one who is capable of carrying out such a delicate mission, who has, one might say, "good hands" when he rides. But, of course, he has no chance whatever of succeeding if Congress is going to roughhouse our relations with Cuba, as did the Internal Security Sub-Committee of the Senate just the other day. This was when it provided a platform and loudspeakers for a disaffected Cuban adventurer to denounce the Cuban revolutionists as Communists. This country, as the President was quick to point out, "has made no such charges." But the damage done by the Sub-Committee's irresponsible meddling may not be repaired easily or quickly.

The policy which we are following in Cuba is to avoid a break with Dr. Castro and to seek more contact with him. This policy is the product of years of experience in our relations with the other American states. There is no alternative to it, given the fact that we have most solemnly renounced the right of intervention to suppress a revolution. In this century, we have committed ourselves repeatedly and wholly to the principle that each country in this hemisphere has the right of self-determination. This carries with it inseparably the right of revolution, and imposes upon us the obligation to live with the revolutions, when they occur, as best we can.

Beneath these large generalizations and abstractions, there is the substantial fact that in this century, which is seeing the awakening of the submerged masses of mankind, the old style of imperialism and over-lordship is not only morally unacceptable but is practically impossible. To put it specifically and bluntly, the United States could not install a puppet to govern Cuba in place of Dr. Castro and his revolutionists. The United States must, therefore, do what it can to keep on good terms with Dr. Castro and his successors.

Fellow-Travellers

There are those who think differently. They see Dr. Castro going far to the left in the company of a number of fellow-travellers of the Communists. They think the way to deal with what they see is to denounce the fellow-travellers as Communists, even as Soviet agents, and to denounce Dr. Castro who tolerates and associates with fellow-travellers as himself a fellow-traveller and virtually a Communist.

What good will it do, I would like to know? The result of such tactics will not be to cause Dr. Castro and the fellow-travellers to abandon their revolutionary program. It will be to cause them to regard us as their enemy, and to become as thoroughly anti-American as they dare to be.

The wiser course and the more practical one is to be patient and relaxed—to remember that Cuba is our near neighbor and is far beyond the reach of the Soviet Union. Remembering this, we can rely ultimately on the high improbability that Cuba will drift or be pushed and pulled into the Soviet orbit.

Just as it was a great mistake to treat Egypt under Col. Nasser as a Soviet satellite, so it would be an even greater mistake even to intimate that Castro's Cuba has any real prospect of becoming a Soviet satellite.

For the thing we should never do in dealing with the revolutionary countries in which the world abounds is to push them behind an iron curtain raised by ourselves. On the contrary, even when they have been seduced and subverted and are drawn across the line, the right thing to do is to keep the way open for their return.

WESTMINSTER SURVEY

On the Road, In the Air

BOTH Houses of Parliament have considered the new edition of the Highway Code, for which their approval is required before it can be applied. This is only one item in a process of debate and questioning which has covered many aspects of the future of motoring and of aviation, both civil and military.

For the Commons, the debate on the Highway Code — a set of rules intended to promote safety on the roads — had a painfully direct application, for, as Mr. Gresham Cooke pointed out, four members of the House, Richard Stokes, Richard Fort, Wilfred Fienburgh, and Sidney Dye, had been killed in motor accidents during the present Parliament.

Mr. G. H. R. Nugent, Joint Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Transport and Civil Aviation, spoke of the need to "civilize the use of the motor-car," and said that if the old Highway Code had been fully observed last year 300,000 people who had been maimed or killed would still be unscathed. The new code differs from the old in two major respects: the hand signal "I am ready to be overtaken" is to be abolished, and a new rule is to be made that traffic turning at road junctions must give way to pedestrians. In general, Mr. Nugent said, mechanical signals had been so much improved and were so widely used that hand signals were becoming of less importance.

Some Criticisms

The new code commended itself to the Commons as a whole, but individual members made some criticisms of road practice. Mr. G. R. Strauss, speaking for Labor, complained about the Government's delay in applying a compulsory check on the lights, brakes, steering, and tires of older cars. Mr. Nugent replied that 13,000 garages had been inspected and would duly become authorized testing stations, though he could not name the date on which this would happen.

Two members protested that the Government was not severe enough in preventing drivers from taking liquor. A Conservative, Mr. John Hobson, said he would have liked to see written in letters of blood in the new Highway Code phrases to this effect: "If you must drink, do not drive," or "Stay at home and go to your local on your feet."

A Labor member, Mr. Glenvil Hall, was disappointed by the Minister's decision to allow the issue of table licences to restaurants along the new motorways. Mr. Nugent agreed that those who were going to drive should be extremely careful about drinking, but thought it would be a counsel of perfection to say that no one should have a drink before he was going to drive. But he added: "I hope, where there are convictions, the courts will deal with these offences severely and make it plain that, as a community, we are against it."

Poor Steering

Vice-Admiral Hughes-Hallet, a Conservative, condemned the driving of pipe smokers. "In my experience as a motor-cyclist," he said, "I find one has to be very careful when overtaking a driver who is smoking a pipe. If his matches are in his left-hand pocket he nearly always wanders into the centre of the road when reaching for them."

Members of the Commons are anxious about the future of the British aircraft industry. The heart of the trouble lies in a general sense that British designers and technicians, who have done great work in the past, may unless effective action is taken be compelled to deny their skill to the country because aircraft production is contracting.

The point was well put by Mr. Frank Beswick when he wound up a debate on aircraft production for the Labor Opposition last week: "I should like more and more to place our national prestige, and our economic and social influence in the world, upon our technical advances, especially in the field of aviation." Mr. Beswick served with the R.A.F.'s Transport Command during the Second World War, and he spoke of the goodwill towards the aircraft industry that existed not only among the old people but among the young, "as anyone who has children will bear out."

Healthy State

But how is the industry to be kept in a healthy state? How is it to maintain, as the Minister of Supply (Mr. Aubrey Jones) said it must, "a strong central core of firms that can play a leading part in the technological momentum of the industry and withstand the shocks that that momentum brings with it"? The shock, for example, that the industry finds itself a victim of its own success, as the Minister put it, with guided weapons contracting the market for manned military aircraft; the shock of development on the civil side, with plans for supersonic air travel at great cost. Mr. Beswick mentioned an estimate that a passenger aircraft of supersonic type might cost at least £100 millions.

These are problems which affect aircraft makers in all countries, but the British industry is faced with a problem of its own — the greater power of the United States to sell its equipment to Western Europe. Mr. Aubrey Jones spoke bluntly about this. British products, he claimed, were not inferior to those of the Americans, but "the European countries are taking American equipment because they see attached to that equipment some form or other of incidental aid."

Promote Sales

If no agreement could be reached, Britain would have to reconsider her position as a member of the International Air Travel Association. Mr. Watkinson also reported B.O.A.C.'s decision to renew its services to South America on January 25, 1960. This decision, he hoped, would promote the sales of the Comet aircraft in South America.

Mr. Jones suggested as a remedy that Britain, at the start of a project, should consolidate her market with that of Western Europe by aligning her specifications to that of the European countries. Mr. Watkinson, the Minister of Transport and Civil Aviation, made other suggestions. Britain, he said, should seek international agreement to reduce fares on world air routes so as to secure many more passengers.

Encouraging Strikes?

Congratulations on your forceful editorial on 'Government Intervention.'

Mr. Bennett may mean well when he says the government will spend millions of dollars to offset the loss caused by the IWA strike.

He claims to have wiped out the internal debt of the province. Good enough if everything is above board.

Should he proceed with his announced intention, surely this would entail deficit financing, or increased taxation, or both.

Would not his plan encourage more strikes in the future by the indirect help given through the pumping of millions of dollars, taxpayers' dollars, into the economy of the province?

I do not believe the IWA strike has the support of the public at large, nor would Mr. Bennett's grandiose scheme—both are related.

Please keep up your good work.

Sports Car Safety

Recently in your newspaper a good deal of publicity has been given to an accident on the Sooke Highway which involved a "sports car."

Those of us who are devoted to sports car motoring hasten to point out, without disrespect, that the unfortunate driver of the automobile was a novice as far as sports cars are concerned.

In the hands of a competent operator, a sports car, by the nature of its design, is unquestionably the safest type of passenger car on the highway.

These cars are designed with an accent on adequent brakes, sensible steering ratios, and general handling qualities, while styling and carrying capacity are quite secondary.

Any persons interested in this type of automobile, with a view to safe, supervised motor sports, are invited to contact me.

Small Income, High Tax

This letter is written in the hope that something may be done for the many hundreds of senior citizens who, on small fixed incomes, are waging an ever losing battle against the vicious upward spiral of taxes and cost of living.

If school boards do not economize, municipalities hold the line, and the Provincial Government devise a more equitable system of school taxation, many of these people through no fault of their own are going to lose their homes. Many of these folks have finished paying for the education of their children thirty years ago. They have in effect paid three times over for their children's education and are still paying.

It would seem that the Government attempts to tie the tax structure to a hypothetical $5,000 income (possibly because so many of them are in that bracket or above). Thus a three or four hundred dollar property tax becomes quite reasonable, and can be taken with a shrug of the shoulders.

On the other hand a one hundred dollar property tax on an elderly couple with only $75-$100 a month total income can and does become an almost unattainable objective. Many of these old folks' taxes have gone up by more than $25 this year. There is no glint of happiness reflected in the eyes of these folks from the bonfires on Okanagan Lake.

If our democratic process is to survive, long overdue consideration and planning should be expedited to the end that these senior citizens, who are in no small part responsible for making our country what it is today, should not lose their homes, and go down as is too often the case to a pauper's grave.

Fact Finders

In your editorial the 'Government Intervention' you criticized Premier Bennett because he attempted to settle the IWA strike at about 10 to 12 cents an hour. You have questioned the Premier's judgment because in your opinion "the ablest economists cannot agree on" it. Since you have not mentioned who these ablest economists are, I can safely predict they are the most obedient and humble servants of big corporations. Unfortunately these economists are not concerned about the welfare of the society as a whole but utilizing all their energies to produce an astronomical amount of profits for their bosses.

Premier Bennett has also the ablest economists who can provide him all the necessary facts about the true economic position of the lumber operators. These economists are our most respectable civil servants. They are anonymous, non-political and impartial. The Premier and the impartial observers are fully aware of the fact that the lumber-operators can afford to pay higher wages but the FIR has been misled by certain interests who promised to defeat the strike with Bill 43 and economic pressure.

Premier Bennett may have realized by now that the employers of B.C. are not worthy of any special protections and privileges because they have abused Bill 43 and messed their relations with the unions.

Mr. Bennett's stand has certainly weakened the position of the lumber-operators. It will be a step in the right direction if the government will set up a fact-finding board to study the wages, prices and the profits relationship in the lumber industry.

'A STUDENT.'

A WOMAN'S OUTLOOK — By RUTH ENKE

Full Circle

THE other day, I saw a Get Well Card that was sent to a friend of mine.

It was a playful, pastel-colored thing, with what I'd call a rabbit motif. I found it a little too arch and cute for my taste, but it fascinated me in a grim kind of way, and, unfortunately, I can't forget it.

Ruth

There was no writing on it, you see. Instead, among the scattered rabbits who were in bed, on the operating table, carrying medicine trays, or in wheel chairs, there were five little box-score charts with six statements in each chart. All the sender had to do was to put a tick beside the appropriate statement.

"Heard about your operation," said Page 1 and beneath that the chart read:

"You rascal, you"
"Itty Bitty Buddy"
"Young Doctor Alone" and so on.

A tick in each of the five charts could have made the message read:

"Heard about your operation, you rascal, you. Was it a Grand Opening? How are you takin' your likker these days? Hope you are all sewed up. From John's Other Wife."

Or, with slight variation, it could have read:

"Heard about your operation, Itty Bitty Buddy. Was it expensive? How are your corn plasters holding out? Hope you are over the wim-wams. From the Headless Horseman.

Or — but no, these two are enough to show the general tone and theme.

* * *

I think it's a fascinating card. For this box score business with the simple tick is exactly what Canadians do in school examinations, official forms, magazine subscription cards, and the endless questionnaires we're all subjected to.

In my darker moments, I see all this as an almost full circle that shows how we've practically returned to the starting-point of illiteracy.

You don't believe that? Well, let's take it as a Canadian story called "Full Circle, or From Cross to Tick in Sixty Years?"

"At the turn of the century, in the big immigration wave, a poor peasant came out from Europe. He'd had no schooling. He couldn't read or write. He signed his name with a cross.

In this land of opportunity, he worked like mad, and being smart and thrifty, he made good and gave his children the education he had missed.

* * *

His great-grandson can read though he's always complaining that he doesn't have time to do the reading he should. But he hardly ever needs to write. It doesn't matter, though, because gradually his writing needs are being replaced by the simple tick.

LONDON LETTER — By WALLACE REYBURN

Milk Ousts Beer

LONDON—The temperance organization with the delightful name of the Society for the Abolition of the Liquor Traffic, which complained bitterly about the inclusion of a drawing of a bottle of champagne in Britain's new wedding telegrams, can take heart. A triumph has been scored in another field of drinking. Beer no longer rates as the national beverage. It has been ousted by—milk!

Reyburn

Not only has milk taken the place of beer as Britain's No. 1 drink but it is well ahead. Folks here now drink three pints of it for every two pints of beer.

* * *

An obvious statistical point is that milk has an advantage in that youngsters are on it for a long time before they can leaglly consume beer (18 years of age).

Hitting its all-time high in sales during the recent war (mainly through the shortage of spirits), beer has slumped drastically ever since. Seeking an explanation, the brewers won't accept the simple one of the effects of television.

But by elementary mathematics, TV must be a factor. Over the past five years TV's home entertainment has been closing Britain's pubs at the astonishing rate of two per week. Pubs are places for the consumption of beer. Therefore, TV must have an effect on beer sales.

However, it is not only milk that has crept up on beer. Two other hitherto un-English beverages—coffee and soft drinks—are coming up fast and are within striking distance of overtaking it also.

Since 1954 the consumption of soft drinks has increased three times — from two gallons per head to six gallons. And the coffee increase is just short of the same ratio.

The obvious explanation of the jump in coffee consumption is the popularity of the new coffee bars that have cropped up all over the place.

And I'd say that the greatly increased intake of soft drinks, compared to the old days, is traceable to a large extent to the fact that pre-war Britain's soft drinks were appalling.

MONTREAL (CP) — Two bandits escaped with an estimated $20,000 from an east-end hotel late Sunday night after overpowering and tying up the manager.

GHANA FORFEIT

Opposition Leader Loses Seat

ACCRA (Reuters) — Dr. K. A. Busia, leader of Ghana's opposition party in parliament, has lost his seat in the National Assembly spokesman said today.

Busia, 45, who is at present visiting Europe, recently was refused permission by the assembly's Speaker, A. M. Akiwumi, to be absent from parliamentary sittings for about three months.

Under parliamentary rules, a member loses his seat if he is absent for 20 consecutive sittings without the Speaker's permission.

Busia is parliamentary leader of the United Party, main opposition to the governing Convention People's Party led by Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah.

Busia missed his 21st consecutive sitting Friday.

The assembly spokesman said the Speaker notified Lord Listowel, governor-general of Ghana, that Busia's seat has been declared vacant.

Busia is the third opposition member to be unseated under the Disqualification Act, approved by parliament four months ago.

The others are R. R. Amponsah and M. K. Apaloo, who lost their seats because they are at present detained under the Preventive Detention Act in connection with an alleged plot against Nkrumah.

HOME GARDEN — By HILDA BEASTALL

Freesias for Winter Cheer

Most home gardeners like to have some evidence of their skill for friends to admire indoors during winter.

Hilda

Freesias have always been favorites for winter fragrance, but they are not so easy to raise as in the past.

That statement may seem queer at first glance, but I have a reason. Freesias like a cool, sunny place in which to grow during early winter until the flower buds are colored, and then they may go into regular living quarters' temperature for flowering.

The difficulty in many of today's homes is to find a cool, sunny spot in winter.

However, for those who are able to provide the necessary conditions, here is a brief outline of the procedure.

Those who have freesia bulbs on hand from last year, when perhaps they did not have the results anticipated, may also like to tune in.

Freesias like a deep root run, so use a pot at least six inches in depth. The soil mixture should be of screened compost with plenty of coarse sand to keep the texture open.

LEAVE SPACE

Leave a half-inch space at the top of the pot to allow for watering, and tamp the soil into place with one quick tap of the pot on a bench.

Working around the edge of the pot first, a dozen bulbs may be spaced in a spiral, pushing them gently their own depth into the soil.

Smooth the surface, print a wooden label with the name and the date of planting, and if the soil mixture was reasonably damp do not water until the surface becomes dry.

Stand the pot in the coolest place outdoors, such as the side of a building or fence facing north, and watch for the straight shoots of green to come through in about three weeks.

From then until frost threatens, possibly end of September, the freesias should remain in the cool, making a good root system.

It is after they have to be brought indoors that one must figure the best place for them. The old-fashioned unheated sunrooms were ideal, for they had sun, air and coolness, all three of which are so necessary for the full development of freesias.

LESS THAN TEN intercontinental-range missiles capable of hitting the United States are owned by the Russians, U.S. Defence Secretary Neil H. McElroy said today. He added: "We do not believe that Russia at this time has any important capability of this nature," and that the U.S. over-all weapons system could more than match whatever the Soviets have.

'DEATH RAYS' THREATENING SPACE TRAVEL

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Repeated detection in recent weeks of huge "death rays in space" in the form of atomic particles shooting out from the sun raises grave questions about the future of space travel, Minneapolis Tribune science writer Victor Cohn said in a copyrighted article Sunday.

Cohn said one physicist summed up the early reaction of a number of scientists to the discoveries when he said, "the space travel enthusiasts are in for a rude shock".

STREAM FROM SUN

He said the particles, called protons, stream from the sun during some solar flares, actually great explosions on the sun's surface. Each stream of particles lasts for up to eight days and they come at unpredictable times.

Stopping most of them in space, he said, would take an inch or maybe two inches of lead, at various early estimates. Enough lead to protect a spaceship's travelers could weigh tons: More tons than any space propulsion system in the known future may be able to lift.

West Germans Discuss Pact With Poland

BONN (Reuters)—The West German government has discussed the possibility of non-aggression pacts with Poland and Czechoslovakia, foreign office sources disclosed today.

The sources confirmed a report in the independent Hamburg daily Die Welt that the possibility of such pacts had been discussed.

But they said, there were no plans to open negotiations in the immediate future with Poland and Czechoslovakia. Neither country has diplomatic relations with West Germany.

SOLAR POWER SPACE PROBE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States plans to launch a "paddlewheel" satellite from Cape Canaveral, Fla., around Aug. 7 to test feasibility of using solar power to operate radio equipment aboard space probes to be fired later at the planet Venus, it was disclosed today.

NEW PRESIDENT WILL BE CHOSEN

Tories Call Big Party Parley

OTTAWA (CP)—A general meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada — the first in three years—has been called to meet here in December, it was announced today.

It will be the first major get-together for the party since the national convention in December, 1956, when John Diefenbaker was chosen national leader.

National Director Allister Grosart, announcing the new meeting to be held Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 1-2, said attendance could be anywhere between 1,000 and 2,000.

Members of the party's 70-member executive and all party members will be eligible to attend the meeting.

The last such general meeting was held Jan. 17-18, 1956. Since then the party has chosen a new leader and won two national elections, coming to power after 22 years in Opposition.

This will not be a national convention, of the kind which chose Mr. Diefenbaker as national leader.

However, the meeting will elect a new association president and executive. Solicitor-General Leon Balcer has been president since January, 1956.

Midwestern Again Seeks Canadian Gas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Midwestern Gas Transmission Company starts another turn today in its quest for authority to import natural gas from Canada for the use of communities in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and North Dakota.

The Federal Power Commission last year turned down Midwestern's application for the right to serve various midwest states. The commission held that Midwestern had no assurance Canadian gas would be available to it.

The company, with a new application, gets another chance at a hearing opening today before a commission examiner.

It plans to buy about 204,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily from Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Limited and resell 158,000,000 cubic feet to Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Company, where the lines would hook up at Marshfield.

CPA to Increase Flights to Orient

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canadian Pacific Airlines this fall will increase by 50 per cent its Vancouver - Tokyo - Hong Kong passenger service.

The company said here Sunday a third weekly jet-powered flight will be inaugurated Sept. 4. All three flights will use the 91-seat Bristol Britannias.

A company spokesman said the new service was direct result of the increasing business and tourist air traffic between the Orient and Canada.

TODAY'S GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP) — Flax prices scored new seasonal highs for all contracts today in active trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Buying was stimulated by reports of high temperatures on the prairie grain belt, regarded as unfavorable for areas where moisture is short.

Class two, IWA and domestic wheat prices, basis Lakehead, all were unchanged from Friday.

CHICAGO (AP) — Renewed reports of dry weather in parts of the northern plains had a firming influence today on wheat and rye prices on the Board of Trade. They advanced as much as a cent a bushel at times.

Dealers said there also appeared to be a slightly improved flour mill demand and a decline in hedge selling. Word that Pakistan and Formosa will be in the market for substantial wheat purchases this week attracted some export buying.

Western Oils Lose Ground

AT TORONTO, prices, amid sluggish mid-afternoon trading, were irregular today. Industrials showed gains but western oils lost ground.

The 2 p.m. volume of 1,558,000 shares was the heaviest in two weeks but still below the usual pace at this time in other years. Friday's sales at the same time were 1,102,000.

Industrial strength was mainly concentrated in blue-chip stocks—ones listed on the index. A few lightly-traded issues lost as much as four points but most changes were fractional.

Senior base metals were mixed to higher.

AT MONTREAL prices were irregular with most changes remaining within a range of minor fractions under extremely quiet turnover early this afternoon.

Papers and utilities were mixed, while base metals and banks showed an irregular firmer tendency.

Penny issues were irregular. Canadian Northwest was down a dime at 44 cents while New Pacific Coal at 1.27 was up 29 cents.

Industrial volume was 42,100 shares; mines and oils, 156,700.

AT NEW YORK steel and chemical shares spearheaded an upswing this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Motors, rubbers, aircrafts, metals, rails, oils and tobaccos generally joined the advance. Some utilities eased.

U.S. Steel advanced nearly 2. Bethlehem and Republic Steel climbed close to 1.

AT LONDON trading was quiet and irregular today.

Gilt-edged stocks were idle and foreign bonds were featureless. Dollar stocks were mainly easier.

10,000 Scouts End Jamboree

MANILA (Reuters) — More than 10,000 Boy Scouts from all over the world marched with arms interlocked at Mount Makiling camp site Sunday to mark the end of the 10th World Scout Jamboree.

The 8,000 Filipino Scouts and some 3,000 from 44 other nations, including Canada, proved their devotion to the scouting law demanding cheerfulness in the face of trouble during the 10-day jamboree.

The early part of the get-together — first jamboree held in Asia — was marred by a water shortage. Patches of rainy weather at times turned the 660-acre camp site into a quagmire.

But overseas Scouts and their chiefs dismissed the water shortage and mud as "just one of the problems a Scout usually has to cope with in a camp."

The closing grand parade finished up with the thousands of boys massed in front of the grandstand in the jamboree arena letting loose a thunderous cheer.

Video magnetic tape recordings, replacing more and more film kinescopes, became a regular part of TV broadcasting in 1958.

'HARD-HITTING BUT NOT BELLIGERENT'

'Dick' and 'Nik' Have Joke Party

MOSCOW (AP)—Vice-President Richard Nixon of the United States, and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev talked and joked for hours Sunday and agreed that their debate last Friday was hard-hitting but not belligerent. Then they settled down to serious discussion of world problems.

The two men talked at Khrushchev's big cream-colored country home, or dacha, 20 miles outside Moscow. Flanked by first-deputy premiers Anastas Mikoyan and Frol Kozlov and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Khrushchev played host to Mr. and Mrs. Nixon at lunch on a grassy tree-shaded knoll overlooking Moscow River.

The party went for a motorboat ride on the river, during which Khrushchev stopped eight times to shake hands with bathers on the sandy beaches.

POOLED REPORT

Then they called in an American and a Soviet reporter, accompanied by an American and a Soviet photographer, and told what they had been doing. The two reporters took notes and agreed on a pooled report of what had been said.

Nixon and Khrushchev took the unusual step of reviewing the notes and agreed they reflected accurately what had been said.

The joint account thus relayed to the world said neither was offended by the blunt talk last Friday when the two men debated on the threshold of the electronic kitchen of a model American home in the U.S. exposition in Sokolniki park.

The exchange, they said, was "hard hitting, direct, frank — but not belligerent."

Khrushchev turned to Nixon and asked: "Were you offended?"

"Never," said Nixon. "Mr. Khrushchev and I have some real and honest differences but we are alike in this respect: We both came from humble families and both have a practice of speaking directly and not beating around the bush.

"We both believe this is the way to discuss—always frankly and directly but never belligerently."

SIMILAR VERSION

Khrushchev said, "I agree, and perhaps your correspondents can get in touch with ours so we will have a similar version."

Khrushchev, turning to the American reporter, said some press accounts of the Friday talk sounded as if the vice-president and the premier were "quarreling and offending each other."

In the give and take, Khrushchev and Nixon accused each other of making threats and giving ultimatums.

During the exchange Nixon's voice took on an angry tone on several occasions and Krushchev flushed.

Nixon's press spokesman said Nixon, by agreeing with Khrushchev Sunday, did not mean to imply criticism of western reporters' accounts of the Friday meeting.

The pooled account of the Nixon-Khrushchev boat ride said Khrushchev would stop at a beach, point to the bathers and say, "captive people."

PEACE AND FRIENDSHIP

The swimmers would reply, "No, no. Peace and friendship."

Nixon, using some of his newly-learned Russian, would answer, "Peace and friendship."

The Soviet press, following the Khrushchev lead, has been bristling with denunciation of Captive Nations Week proclaimed by President Eisenhower. The president approved a resolution by the U.S. Senate calling for prayers for Soviet satellite nations.

At one point Khrushchev poked Nixon in the ribs with good humor and said: "Here are your captives. You can see how happy they are."

After the eighth stop, Nixon turned to Khrushchev and said, "You know, Mr. Khrushchev. I must admire you. This is the eighth time you've stopped. You never miss a chance to make propaganda."

"No, no, I don't make propaganda," Khrushchev said. "I tell the truth."

Despite the display of harmony the serious talks got under way in an atmosphere clouded by what Nixon regards as a violation of a Moscow pledge to let Western reporters report his activities free of censorship. Soviet censors continue to blue pencil copy of American and other Western reporters stationed in Moscow, but not copy of the reporters accompanying Nixon.

Langford Fireman Funeral Tuesday

Funeral service under auspices of the Langford Fire Department will be held at Sands Funeral Home, Colwood, at 3 p.m. Thursday for volunteer fireman Edward Fisher, 46, who collapsed and died fighting a Langford bush fire Saturday.

Fellow firemen rushed to his aid while he was acting as hose man. Fire Chief Rod Bayles and William Okell used the resuscitator for about an hour, continuing treatment in the trip to St. Joseph's Hospital.

At the hospital artificial respiration was carried on for a half hour before the victim was pronounced dead.

Mr. Fisher, of 2843 Knotty Pine Road, had been in ill health for two years following pneumonia contracted while fighting a fire in December, 1956. Since then he had acted as dispatcher instead of taking an active part in fighting fires.

However Saturday he went directly to the fire, near the Langford School, instead of going to the fire hall.

Survivors include the widow, Elsie, and three children, Ronald, 9, Sandra, 8, and Richard, 7.

TOO CLOSE FOR COMFORT

Bean-balls are bad enough, but Rochester Red Wings' Frank Verdi (checked shirt) today prefers being tagged by ball rather than by bullet. TEAMS HAPPY TO LEAVE TRIGGER-HAPPY HAVANA

Bullets Hit Two Players

HAVANA (AP) — Havana Sugar Kings and Rochester Red Wings are far from this trigger-happy city today, the Cubans in Montreal and the Wings at home for the series opening Tuesday.

In fact the Wings have been home since Sunday. They couldn't get out of this celebrating town fast enough following the hitting of two players by stray bullets and the calling of Saturday night's game after 11 innings with the score tied 4-4.

Sunday's doubleheader was cancelled by approval of league president Frank Shaughnessy of Montreal after he heard from the umpires a telephone report of Saturday night's incidents.

The Wings, whose Frank Verdi was knocked to the ground when a bullet struck his plastic protective helmet, refused to play and appealed their decision to Shaughnessy.

"I told them (Rochester) if they didn't want to play, they didn't have to," Shaughnessy said Sunday. "I wouldn't ask them to play under those conditions. This is the 26th of July and celebrations for Premier Fidel Castro are still going on."

Havana's Leo Cardenas was struck in the shoulder by a stray slug but was not severely injured. The Havana management wanted to play Sunday's double-header but bowed to Shaughnessy's ruling.

Saturday night's incident were the result of the wild celebrations that rocked this country's capital as Castro's followers celebrated the anniversary of the beginning of the campaign to overthrow former dictator Fulgencia Batista.

Shaughnessy said he was informed that some of the fans in the stands Saturday night had sub-machine guns and were firing them into the air. The stadium is less than a quarter of a mile from the square where thousands of armed men from Cuba's hills were whooping it up in a day-long celebration.

Verdi had replaced Rochester manager Cot Deal as the team's third base coach after Deal earlier had been ejected from the game by the umpires.

"As I lay on the ground I thought I'd been hit by a thrown ball," a shaken Verdi said afterward. But he wouldn't compromise his luck:

"Look, I've a wife and four kids at home," the 33-year-old Bayshore, N.Y., player said. "As far as this town is concerned I've had it. We came here to play ball, not to be shot at."

Braves Back On Right Course; Yanks Still Drifting Downhill

By UP International

The Braves are coming—and the Yankees may be gone.

That's the trend of the pennant races today as the straining defending champions struggle to organize late-season drives. It looks like the Braves are going to make a fight of it. But there's no sign that the Yankees can snap out of the coma that now has them drifting out of the race.

The Braves, bouncing back from a seven-game losing streak, ran their winning streak to four games Sunday when they beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-0 and 2-1. They are now only two percentage points behind second-place Los Angeles and two games behind first-place San Francisco.

The Yankees, meanwhile, suffered a 1-0 loss to Frank Lary and the Detroit Tigers and fell one game below .500, nine games behind the Cleveland Indians, who took over first place with a 9-0 and 4-3 sweep of the Washington Senators. The Yankees' problems were further complicated by the news that first-baseman Bill Skowron is lost for the season with a broken wrist.

The Chicago Cubs scored a 7-3 victory over the Giants, the Dodgers whipped the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-2, and the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Cincinnati Reds, 6-3, after a 4-2 loss in other National League games.

The Baltimore Orioles knocked the White Sox out of first place, 4-0, after Chicago won the first game, 4-1, and the Kansas City Athletics ran their winning streak to seven games with a 5-4 decision over the Boston Red Sox in the other American League games.

Warren Spahn tossed the 47th shutout of his career and won his 13th game of the season in the first game and then Bob Buhl gained his seventh win for Milwaukee in the nightcap. Johnny Logan's two-run homer was the clinching blow of the first game while the Braves' winning run in the nightcap came on a walk, Hank Aaron's single, an error and an infield out.

WON IN 10TH

Lary, who has beaten the Yankees four times this year and is 20-5 over them lifetime, pitched an eight-hitter and struck out seven. Art Ditmar matched zeroes with the Alabama bulldog for nine innings but the Tigers won in the 10th when pinch-hitter Neil Chrisley's two-out single drove in Gail Harris. Yankee relief ace Ryne Duren lost his third decision.

Ernie Banks hit a two-run homer and pitcher Bob Anderson singled home two runs for the Cubs, who dealt San Francisco's Mike McCormick his eighth defeat. Willie Mays' two-run homer was the big blow for the Giants.

Don Drysdale pitched a seven-hitter and hit a two-run homer as he won his 13th game for the Dodgers.

THIRD MAJOR LEAGUE READY TO GO IN '61?

NEW YORK (UPI)—The formation of a third major league is expected to be announced today at a special press conference called by William A. Shea, chairman of Mayor Robert Wagner's baseball committee.

Shea had said earlier that he would announce the make-up of the new circuit sometime this month and reiterated his belief that it would be ready to operate by 1961.

Five areas, in addition to New York, are virtually certain to be included in the new league on which Shea estimates $100,000,000 will be spent. Those areas are Toronto, Houston, Denver, Dallas-Fort Worth and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Other cities known to be under consideration are Atlanta, Seattle, Montreal, San Diego, Buffalo and Miami.

Bob Gets Berth On Swim Squad

As expected, Victoria's backstroke ace, Bob Wheaton, has been named to Canada's Pan-American Games swimming team.

Winner of a third-place medal at the British Empire Games last summer, Wheaton is one of 21 swimmers selected to represent the Dominion at the Aug. 27-Sept. 7 games at Chicago. Two divers were also named.

The team was chosen early Sunday after three-day trials at the 55-yard Olympic standard pool — the only one in Eastern Canada — where eight records were shattered. Two went by the boards in Saturday night's concluding program as Sara Barber of Brantford and Montreal's Cameron Grout emerged as the individual stars with a total of four victories each.

The selectors caused some surprise by choosing only 10 men, two off the net quota of 12, and 13 women, one over the allotment. Nine are from Western Canada, mainly British Columbia, and the others from Ontario and Quebec.

Here is the team:

Men — Grout, Dick Pound and Steve Rabinovitch, all Montreal; Tom Verth and Kurt Pluntke, Toronto; Peter Fowler, London; Meissner, Kitchener; Bill Campbell and Ed Cazalet, Vancouver; and Wheaton.

Women—Irene MacDonald; Sara Barber and Mary Lou Whitwill, Brantford; Bonnie Benson, Lynn Scott, Sandra Scott, Elaine Jacques, Toronto; Janice Shepp, Winnipeg; Mary Stewart, Mrs. Hunt, Katy Campbell, Margaret Iwasaki and Susan Sangster, all Vancouver.

WITH CONTINENT'S BEST

The divers are 25-year-old Miss MacDonald, winner of both the tower and three-metre springboard and considered tops in North America, and Meissner, 22-year-old student at the University of Michigan who has been diving only three years. He also won both the springboard and tower events.

The only gold-medal winner in big-time swimming on the team is Mrs. Hunt, wife of the British Columbia Lions halfback in the Western Interprovincial Football Union. As Helen Stewart, she placed first in the 100-metre free-style in the 1955 Pan-Am games at Mexico City.

Other tournament-tested stars are Grout, Wheaton, the 18-year-old Miss Barber, and two Vancouver mermaids—the 17-year-old Miss Iwasaki and Susan Sangster. All competed for Canada in the 1958 British Empire Games at Cardiff.

No-Hit Hurlers Stamp Duncan Team to Watch

The days of Victoria's domination over other Vancouver Island clubs in Little League playoffs may soon be over.

Duncan's the team to watch as survivors of the weekend's zone playoffs prepare for next weekend's Island finals.

Duncan's opponents couldn't buy a hit as the team claimed the Area I championship by marking up two no-hitters. An error deprived Larry Paradice of a perfect game Saturday as Duncan beat Cowichan Lake 11-0, and on Sunday Garry Bruce followed up with another no-hit performance to beat Ladysmith 12-0.

This compares with the tightests performance in the Victoria area Sunday, when Allan Kalberg and Dave Evans combined to pitch National League to the Area III championship with a no-hit, 16-5 win over Cadboro Bay.

In other contests, Oak Bay beat Lake Hill, 14-2, to win the Area II title and American claimed the Area IV crown with a 6-2 decision over Fairfield.

But the Duncan performance stole the show. Paradis was deprived of a perfect game when a runner made first base on an error in the fifth. He struck out 13, including the last five batters in a row.

Bruce struck out 14 and walked one.

Pete Jolly struck out 13 and got two hits in three times at bat to lead the American Leaguers to their win.

Mike Maloney yielded only four hits in pitching Oak Bay into the Island final.

Rocks Set Sights On Carlings' Club

Nanaimo Labatts are in second place in the Inter-City Lacrosse League today.

They passed Vancouver Carlings Saturday on the strength of an 11-4 victory at Nanaimo to take a one-point edge behind leading New Westminster O'Keefes. The loss kept Carlings four points ahead of Victoria Shamrocks, whom they meet twice this week.

The Rocks and Carlings meet in Vancouver Tuesday with the return game set for Memorial Arena Friday.

Hustle and the stonewall play of goalie Fred Fulla was the formula for success employed by Nanaimo Saturday.

Fulla held Carlings scoreless for 37 minutes and 36 seconds after allowing two goals in the first frame.

Joe White and Spud Morelli set the pace with three goals each, with Gogi Stewart and Skip MacKay adding a pair each.

Skylarks Take Two Verdicts

Victoria Vicettes lost a pair of tough decisions to Bremerton Skylarks in Senior Women's softball exhibition games Sunday at Central Park, 7-0 and 3-2.

Vicettes had trouble hitting in the first contest as Myrtle Pearce tossed a one-hitter at them, but they found the range a bit better in the second to bang out four singles.

None of them, though, were in the big first inning, when Vicettes scored two runs off the offerings of Gretchan Bower, who was replaced by Miss Pearce after less than one inning. Lorraine Shields and Nita Moody combined to toss an eight-hitter.

Quesnel Trips Victoria Club

VANCOUVER — You don't come any closer and still lose. That was one consolation for Victoria's Evening Optimist All-Stars Sunday as they sat on the sidelines and watched Quesnel lose the B.C. Babe Ruth League baseball final to New Westminster, 17-3.

Victoria had lost a 4-3 heart-breaker to Quesnel in eight innings Saturday in the semi-finals as Don Crowe came home on a passed ball.

Quesnel scored two sixth-inning runs to knot the score after Victoria had gained a 3-1 lead.

GODBOUT WINS SET

Rookie Provides Lone Bright Spot

MONTREAL (CP)—Australia pressed on toward the Davis Cup during the weekend, brushing aside Canada 5-0 in the American zone semi-finals.

The Australians, outclassing Canada's best tennis players by a wide margin, took the singles Friday and the doubles Saturday in straight sets and lapsed a bit as they slipped to four-set victories Sunday.

The bright spot of the series for Canada was the brilliant play Sunday of rookie Francois Godbout, 21, of Waterloo, Que., who in his Davis Cup debut took one set from Australian Rod (Rocket) Laver before losing 7-9, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1.

BEDARD TAKES ONE

Bod Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., Canada's 27-year-old champion, forced Roy Emerson to four sets also but lost 4-6, 6-4, 7-5, 6-1. Two years ago at Kent, England, Bedard polished off Emerson in two straight sets.

Godbout, a lanky left-hander, was conceded little chance to beat his left-handed opponent who at 20 is recognized as the future world champion. But the rookie took to the grass courts of Mount Royal Tennis Club cool and relaxed and proceeded to give Laver trouble.

Godbout displayed a good overhead kill and backhand. He charged the net as often as Laver and tried to force the game.

Laver recovered in the second set and finished strongly. Godbout improved his game as the match went on, but Laver proved to have too much experience, touch and power.

Bedard and Emerson fought on almost even terms throughout their match, but Bedard folded at critical points, making his backhand returns weakly.

The doubles Saturday were strictly routine, as Fraser and Emerson, the Wimbledon doubles champions, slapped down Bedard and Fontana 6-3, 6-3, 6-1.

Innings Seemed Long For Diamond Veterans

They were called the Old-Timers, but it was generally conceded that the longest innings of baseball they ever played were at Royal Athletic Park Saturday against the Civic Employees' Association.

Occasion, of course, was the Eagles' "Old-Timers' Day" Senior Amateur Baseball League program. After the Old-Timers had gracefully retired as 10-0 losers after two innings of play, they sat down to watch Wakeman Trimble-Naval Vets trip Eagles-Pages, 3-2, in a league exhibition.

George Brice yielded only five hits and two walks and struck out six as he recorded the win.

'Lucky' 400 Now Wait for Fish-Off

Preliminary fishing is over in the annual Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association ladder derby.

For the nearly 400 qualifiers, nothing remains except to pick their favorite fishing spots and make sure their running gear is all in working order for next month's fishoff.

C. Taylor held the top rung of the final week, which ended Sunday, with a 26-pounder, even though it wasn't the largest salmon taken.

The top fish taken was registered by Wynn Rose, a 35.4-pounder, and the second largest a 28.8-pound salmon caught by Bob Redgrave. Both had qualified for the fishoff in earlier competition.

EVES IN FINE FORM AT CALEDONIA GAMES

Hammer-Tosser Breaks Ice

VANCOUVER — Vancouver Island winners were scarce in the 73rd annual Caledonia Games here Saturday.

Only one Island competitor, W. Jenkins of Victoria, won an event, although other Island entrants picked up four seconds and a third place.

Jenkins tossed the 16-pound hammer 94 feet 4½ inches to claim victory over W. W. Nicholson of Boston and John Pavelich of Vancouver, both of whom went on to win the 28 and 35-pound hammer throws, respectively.

Seventeen-year-old Lynn Eves of Victoria, while not finishing first, won acclaim for taking second-place finishes behind two of the best runners in North America.

Eves, a member of the Pan-American track team, was second to sensational Harry Jerome of Vancouver in the 100-yard dash. Jerome did it in 9.8 seconds.

Eves also came in second in the 220-yard race behind Otis Davis of Oregon University, top quarter-miler in the United States. Davis ran in 21.6 seconds as an expected battle with Jerome failed to materialize. Jerome suffered a recurrence of a pulled leg muscle, not considered serious, which he injured in the Pan-Am trials in Winnipeg recently.

Eleanor Whitehead of Victoria, claimed second in the juvenile girls' 100-yard dash behind D. Timms of Vancouver, who ran it in 12.1 seconds.

Victoria YMCA was second in the 440-yard open men's relay behind the B.C. Striders of Vancouver, who were timed in 43.3 seconds.

Duncan Sports Club was third in the 440-yard midget relay as Vancouver Arctic Club won in the Canadian record time of 46.4 seconds. Vancouver Olympic Club was second.

FUMBLES BY THE DOZEN FOR SIX MILE

And They Won By an Error

Who says you can't make errors by the dozen and still win ball games?

Six Mile House made about as many errors as any team could be expected to make—12, to be exact — and still won their Section Two Senior Open Softball League game with Tudor House at Heywood Avenue Park Sunday, 9-8.

But after the smoke had cleared from the 11-inning scramble, Six Mile had won on an error.

Terry Sundher, who should have been out, reached first base through an error. Jerry Harris singled him to third and he rode home on Frank MacNutt's sacrifice fly to win the game for Six Mile.

Errors paved the way for six of Tudor House's eight runs.

In Section One action at Central Park, D & D Tire defeated Morrisons, 5-1, behind the five-hit pitching of Jim Trimble.

Soon They'll Name It The Stan Leonard Open

HULL, Que. (UPI) — Much more of this and the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship may have to be renamed the Stan Leonard Open.

The veteran Vancouver professional captured the CPGA crown for a record seventh time Saturday. And he made it look so easy there's no telling how many more he'll win in the years ahead.

Minutes after he finished the final round of a record-tying 204 for 54 holes, Leonard himself said he would like to win three more CPGA titles before he put away his clubs. No one suggested he couldn't do it.

The 44-year-old shotmaker, playing with superb consistency, put together rounds of 67, 66, and 71, 12 under par for the 6,350-yard Rivermead course, to win in a cakewalk over a record field of 107 pros. Only in Thursday's first round, when a pair of pros carded a 68, did anyone give him a run for his money.

BALDING SECOND

The win gave Leonard the $1,000 first prize, an all-expense paid trip to next winter's Carribean circuit valued at $1,750, and the Seagram Shield. It boosted his 1959 earnings past the $10,000 mark.

Al Balding of Markham, Ont., the other half of Canada's one-two punch on the U.S. circuit, won the other trip to the Carribean and $700 second-place money. His 54-hole count of 213 was three under par for the route, but a distant nine strokes off Leonard's pace.

Bill Kozak of Niagara Falls, Ont., finished third another back at 214. He picked up $600.

Three more pros were deadlocked at 215. Bob Cunningham of Toronto, Larry Edwards of Lakeview, Ont., and Andre Cazes of Levis, Que., each won $400.

STRICTLY LEONARD

At 216, even par for the three rounds, were Pat Fletcher and Alan Johnston of Montreal, Cec Dowling of Charlottetown and Jack Bissenger of Val Morin, Que. They took home $125 each.

It was strictly a Leonard show. Only narrowly-missed putts on the last two holes prevented him from breaking the tournament record set by Balding four years ago.

He used only 93 putts, 15 under regulation figures, in three days. His cards showed 36 pars, 15 birdies and a mere three bogies.

Draw-Happy Als Taking Slow Route

Alcos are moving upwards in the Victoria and District Cricket Association table, but they are certainly doing it the hard, slow way.

The cellar-dwelling Alcos recorded their fourth straight draw Sunday at Windsor Park as time ran out in their game with Cowichan.

Cowichan, helped by the 26-run batting of D. Hyde-Lay, were all out for 110, and Alcos had replied with 97 for seven when stumps were drawn.

Jim Davidson was Alcos' top batsman with 36.

On Saturday Incogs gained ground on leading Oak Bay, defeating Five C's by two wickets at Beacon Hill Park while the Bays drew with Albions at Windsor Park.

Five C's, led by Jeremy Breckon's 61 runs, scored 128 runs, but Incogs replied with 129 for eight as Arthur Shaffer scored 43 runs.

Keith Bickmore led Albions with 88 runs, not out, and Peter Clarke added 36 as they declared at 156 for five. Oak Bay scored 105 for six when time was called. Jack Sparks led the Bays with 34 runs.

EVCOES WIN THIRD STRAIGHT IN SOCCER CIRCUIT

They'll Know Fate Tuesday

Fate of the Pacific Coast Soccer League is expected to be made known Tuesday, and it's just possible that Victoria Evcoes' hopes for a second-place finish will ride on an "all-or-nothing" meeting with Vancouver Carlings.

The six-team summer league is reported headed for disbandment in favor of a semi-professional winter circuit and the most popular rumor to make the rounds during the weekend is that the present PCL schedule will end after all teams have played 12 games.

PCL directors are scheduled to meet in Vancouver Tuesday to decide on the issue.

Game No. 12 for Victoria would be against Carlings, currently sharing second with Evcoes. Victory for Evcoes in the 12th game, plus a slightly better goals-for-and-against average, would almost certainly assure Victoria of second place.

Evcoes stepped onto the second rung Saturday in Vancouver, scoring all their goals in the last half to defeat Labatts 3-0. On Sunday, New Westminster Royals all but cinched top place in the tables by defeating Continentals 3-1.

Bill Abbott, George Paul and Antol Major scored the counters that gave Victoria its third straight triumph.

'Smitty' Saved Biggest Surprise for the End

There were so many surprises at Western Speedway Saturday night that one didn't quite know where to turn next.

When the smoke had cleared, though, the following had occurred:

Doug Rose, in his first year of stock car racing, took second money in his first trophy dash; Dave Cooper, usually just about the quickest man on the track, timed in a disappointing sixth, and Al Smith, the bounding bulb-grower, claimed the July Competition Cup over favored Dick Varley.

Smith's win, of course, was the biggest surprise of all.

He made the most of a superlative display of driving as he held Varley off for 27 laps of the 30-lap race, keeping in front until Varley had to ease up when a rod worked loose.

Trophy Dash — 1, Dick Varley; 2, Doug Rose; 3, Al Smith.
First Heat—1, Red Burke; 2, Dick Varley; 3, Bob Clarke.
Second Heat—1, Hank Neilson; 2, Al Smith; 3, Dave Cooper.
Third Heat—1, Bob Mawle; 2, Doug Bowell; 3, Ray Pottinger.

Ky Music Cracks Lansdowne Mark

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ky Music, a hard-running chestnut filly owned by Jack Diamond, set a track record for the mile and a quarter Saturday as she won the $3,500-added British Columbia Derby at Lansdowne Race Track.

Ky Music toured the track in two minutes flat, shaving 1 4-5 seconds off the old mark. The win kept Ky Music in the forefront of British Columbia's crop of three year olds.

Stablemate Ky Song was second, followed by Val Read.

CAPTURES ARLINGTON CLASSIC

SWORD DANCER TRIUMPHS

Dunce Was Smart in Stretch

NEW YORK (AP).—Dunce, son of Tom Fool-Ghazni, turned on a blistering stretch drive to capture the $140,425 Arlington Classic mile in Chicago's Arlington Park Saturday.

Intentionally, a 2-to-5 favorite, placed third behind On-and-On in the seven-horse field.

Dunce, given a magnificent ride by Louis C. Cook, won by 1½ lengths over On-and-On.

Endine, winner of only one race this year, carried the silks of the Christian Stable to an unprecedented second straight victory in the $155,000 Delaware Handicap, richest race in the world for fillies and mares.

Ned W. Brent's 30-1 shot, Polamby, was a driving second.

In Oceanport, N.J., Sword Dancer sliced through what seemed an almost impossible wall of horses at the top of the stretch, and under a masterful ride by Willie Shoemaker pulled away for victory in the $113,750 Monmouth Handicap

Money for the future . . .

LIFE INSURANCE PROTECTION AND SAVINGS FOR EACH MEMBER OF YOUR FAMILY

. . . provided through a "program of security" tailored to your needs by a London Life representative

FOR FATHER: Life insurance to assure an income for his wife and children if he should not live—enough to keep the home intact, to pay the bills for food, clothing, education and other necessities. Provision may also be made for income in case he should become totally disabled. Moreover, the same policies that protect the family can also include savings for retirement.

FOR MOTHER: Life insurance of her own, to meet the extra expenses which would necessarily be involved if her life should be cut short—and to provide money for her later years.

FOR CHILDREN: Life insurance for sons and daughters, at the low premium rates available at their present ages. This insurance can also build up savings funds through the years, for each of them.

London Life men are skilled in helping you to select the plans which will best meet the needs of the individual members of your family. Moreover, it is part of their job to keep your program in line with changes in your situation. Today is a good day to talk to a London Life representative.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Samuel Goldwyn and Otto Preminger are contributing to 1959's summer merriment by having themselves a small feud. Preminger alleges Sam hates all directors and that he once said, "Every director bites the hand that laid the golden egg."

It started when Preminger was directing Goldwyn's "Porgy and Bess," following Sam's firing of Rouben Mamoulian. Preminger was bringing out his own "Anatomy of a Murder" picture about the same time 'Porgy" got premiered . . . and at first Preminger denied there was any fued.

Then one night at 21, Preminger said—in the midst of denying there was any fued—"How can I feud with somebody I don't talk to?"

"That's a perfect Goldwynism," I said.

"Please, not that!" Preminger winced. Only when I agreed to call it an Ottoism, would he agree to talk to me further.

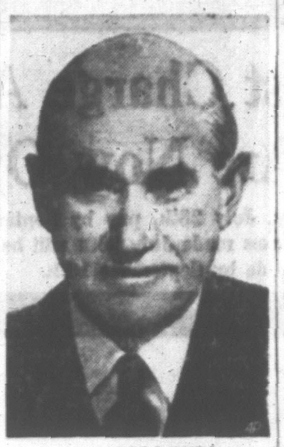
* * *

In Preminger's opinion, the tall, erect, 75-year-old Goldwyn wasn't kidding when he once allegedly said: "A verbal contract isn't worth the paper it's written on."

Preminger says Sam balked at certain verbally-agreed-upon deals . . . but Goldwyn smiles benevolently at all these accusations. He feels it's the same as when reporters quote his Goldwynisms. They don't quote the twinkle in his eye.

About a year ago, the Beautiful Wife and I lunched in Hollywood with Goldwyn in the private dining room of his studio which, only a couple of weeks later, was burned to the ground. (Goldwyn didn't say this, but somebody else did; that he had a fire and he didn't even need it.)

As everybody does who



SAM GOLDWYN
. . . include him out

meets Goldwyn, we listened for Goldwynisms.

And we caught a couple with our bare hands.

For example, he mentioned a friend who had been honored by Philadelphia's "Poor Richman's Club" (he had to mean "Poor Richard's") and in talking of Mike Todd, he referred to his great movie, "80 Days Around the World."

These were so slight that I managed to ask him across the table about my favorites:

"Include me out," "Anybody who goes to a psychiatrist ought to have his head examined," "If Roosevelt were alive, he'd turn over in his grave," "I don't want to make money on this picture; I just want every man, woman and child to see it . . ."

Patiently, Sam said, "I never went to school . . ."

But he surely had some great teachers . . . in this room he'd entertained Calvin Coolidge, Charles Chaplin, the first Douglas Fairbanks.

Smiling, he recalled Coolidge's world-wide reputation as a fisherman (in the Black Hills of the Dakotas they even stocked the streams especially for him). Douglas Fairbanks, to make Coolidge happy, had lengthily described the fishing possibilities of the Hollywood neighborhood, with vast enthusiasm, too. Coolidge listened as long as he could and then grunted:

"I don't fish."

Amazed, Goldwyn asked Coolidge about the stories in the newspapers.

"I don't read the newspapers," Coolidge said. "They're agin me."

Goldwyn seldom drinks, but once Winston Churchill got him tight at lunch. Churchill departed, telling him, "I've got to go and keep a date with Eden."

"I'm pretty sure he was going to keep a date with his bed . . . to take a nap," Goldwyn said.

"Do you still admire Eisenhower as much as you did?" I asked Sam.

"Not as much as I did, no," he said.

"No?"

"MORE!" he shouted.

A couple of times Goldwynisms flowed out. Mentioning Sammy Davis Jr. who plays "Sporting Life" so superbly in "Porgy," Goldwyn said he had seen him in his Broadway show, "Mr. Wonderman." (The title, as practically everybody else knew, was "Mr. Wonderful.")

"Pretty expensive talent," I said, when he also brought in the names of Sidney Poitier, Pearl Bailey and Dorothy Dandridge.

"I have never discovered the secret of making a great picture with inferior talent," he said, which is another sort of Goldwyinism, I suppose.

"People don't quote Goldwyinisms as much as they used to," I said.

"They're too busy quoting my reviews," he answered gently.

So maybe he did call one picture "Withering Heights," instead of "Wuthering Heights" and perhaps he did say once upon a time that the reputation of Samuel Goldwyn was "spreading across the country like wildflowers."

* * *

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A contented husband is one who is on listening terms with his wife.

The true baseball fan is the guy who goes to the ball park even when his TV set's not busted. That's earl, brother.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Cannadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Gary Byrd, aged 11, of Marion, N.C., for his question:

How Do Insects Breathe?

We breathe by taking air through the nose and down into the lungs. There it reaches the blood and is carried to all the body cells by a network of blood vessels. An insect has no nose, no lungs and no blood vessels. Yet he is just as dependent upon oxygen as we are. His method of taking in air and sending the oxygen through his body is entirely different from ours. This should not surprise us, for his tiny body is vastly different from ours in many respects. For one thing, he has no bones. Instead of a nose, an insect uses a double row of tiny pores. These breathing pores are called spiracles and they are just large enough to be seen along the sides of his body.

There may be two or three pairs along the sides of the thorax, or chest segment, and six to eight pairs along the sides of the abdomen. The spiracles are the openings for a set of tubes which lead all over the inside of the insect's body. The larger air tubes are called tracheae and the smaller ones are called tracheoles. In this way, the air reaches all parts of the insect's body.

The grasshopper is a fairly large insect, large enough for you to watch part of his breathing system in operation. If the day is very hot, you can see his small body throb as he forces air in and out. The higher the temperature, the faster he has to breathe. A close-up inspection will show the tiny spiracles along the sides of his body. There are three pairs on the abdomen. As you watch him breathe, you can see these tiny spiracles open and close.

Like Air Conditioning

Air passes through the spiracles into the fine network of tracheae and tracheoles. These tubes convey air to head, wings, legs and every part of the insect's body. Some of them are so narrow that they measure only one 2500th part of an inch. They carry life giving air right up to each cell and some of them even enter the cells.

In the honeybee, the spiracles are less easy to see. They are smaller and buried in the insect's fuzzy coat. The bee is, of course, a very busy insect and she uses up a great deal of energy in her work. For this extra hard work she needs extra supplies of oxygen. To take care of this problem, her little body is fitted with air sacs. The spiracles of the bee open into sizeable pockets in which extra air can be stored for use while the busy bee is in flight.

Among the many insects there are slight variations in the number of spiracles, air sacs and other details. The general breathing system, however, is always the same. Air is forced out when the insect telescopes the segments of its body and drawn in when the segments relax. This process is controlled by muscles on the insides of the insect's leathery skin.

NAVY ENJOYS ITS DAY

Swarms of visitors invaded navy ship and shore establishments for annual navy day Saturday. Learning what makes the guns go round are Tom McLellan (left) and Peter Woelfle, with AB John Harte of the gunnery school at HMCS Naden as instructor.

Navy Survives Invasion Of 10,000 Eager Friends

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Every girl loves a sailor and every man loves a ship.

So it was that more than 10,000 enthusiasts swarmed through HMC Dockyard and HMCS Naden Saturday afternoon as Navy Day guests of the RCN's Pacific Command.

It was in effect a rehearsal for the mammoth Navy Day planned for next year when the Royal Canadian Navy celebrates its 50th birthday.

There was fun for everyone, young and old.

Boys and girls scampered around the decks of the destroyer escorts Assiniboine, Skeena, Fraser and Margaree, and watched eager-eyed as frogmen dived into the sunny harbor.

Fathers manned the revolving three-inch anti-aircraft guns, explored the capacious engine rooms and watched fascinated as naval firemen in asbestos suits trained their hoses onto patches of blazing oil in firefighting demonstrations.

Mothers and daughters peered curiously into galleys and messrooms aboard the ships and showed special interest in the cabin occupied by the Queen aboard HMCS Assiniboine when she sailed from Vancouver to Nanaiho during her recent Island visit.

On a 40-minute tour of the Assiniboine visitors were shown the intricate panel room, two decks down, which fires the twin three-inch guns on the top deck. Sighting and firing are entirely controlled by radar and the equipment employed is valued at around $1,300,000.

"Every sailor aboard these ships is a specialist," the escorting officer said. "He has to learn about five times as much as he did before the last war, and every time a new-type ship is developed there is still more to be learned."

Messrooms are spacious and air-conditioned and enlivened with TV and a piano for singsongs. The old-fashioned sailor's hammock has long been replaced by three-tiered bunks.

Read Admiral H. S. Rayner, Flag Officer Pacific Command, interrupted his summer leave to return to Victoria for the display. He mingled with the visitors and emphasized points of interest.

LIFERAFT

One of these was a self-inflating liferaft with a shelter canvas roof housing 20 men.

"Considerably more comfortable than the old-type Carley float we used in the Second World War," Admiral Rayner said.

Near the entrance to HMC Dockyard was a display of provision packs and ration boxes for shipwrecked sailors and an appetizing food stall stocked with one week's provisions for the crew of a Canadian minesweeper.

FERRY TRIPS

Men, women and children formed long queues all afternoon for short ferry cruises from Dockyard and Naden across Esquimalt Harbor to installations at Colwood.

The RCN's technical school was thrown open for inspection and hundreds watched physical training displays with the Naden Band in attendance.

Sea Cadets were busy all afternoon serving refreshments and distributing naval charts showing visitors where to go and what to see.

Lifting of the ban on public cameras, for the first time in Esquimalt's history, produced a flood of snap-shooters who trained cameras big and small on everything in sight.

A few venturesome youngsters ended up in the lost and found booths but sailors in charge of the first-aid stations had an easy afternoon.

"We are glad everyone found something to interest them," said Commodore H. W. Groos, chairman of the Navy Day committee.

AFTER 12 LESSONS

Stray Pup Beats Wise Old Dogs

DUNCAN — A nine-months-old English sheep dog stray, with a formal education of only 12 lessons, won top honors at the Cowichan Dog Obedience Training Club inter-Island trials here Sunday.

The scholarly pup "Wiggins," owned by Mrs. Judy Hart, Mill Bay, won honors as the highest scoring dog in the trials and the highest scoring club dog.

Highest scoring out-of-town dog was Sawdl, owned by Mrs. S. Roberts, Victoria.

The four top dogs from among 37 entries from Victoria, Nanaimo, Parksville, Courtenay and Duncan were Maxmillian, owned by Mrs. H. McHemar, Duncan; Lady, owned by D. Barker, Duncan; Mitzi, owned by L. Coburn, Duncan, and Wiggins.

The Cowichan Challenge Cup was contested for by teams of four dogs from Duncan and Victoria.

Winner was the Duncan team consisting of Lady, Wiggins, Boots, owned by Mrs. Ruth Generaux, Cobble Hill, and Goldie, owned by Fred Chown of Duncan.

Frosty, owned by Mrs. Mercedes Gibson, Cowichan Station, collected $34 for the SPCA.

Dr. Eric Johnson, Norman Tyrrel and George Donaldson judged the show.

There were no qualifying dogs in the Open B event, and no dogs were entered in the utility class.

David Bennington Wins Junior Golf

DUNCAN — David Bennington, Duncan, shot a seven over par 78 Sunday, three strokes ahead of Gary Gordon of Nanaimo, to top 17 mid-Island fairway followers and win the Duncan junior invitational match at Cowichan Golf and Country Club.

Ken Smith of Nanaimo Golf Club managed an 82 for third spot.

Bennington was consistent over the nine-hole course with totals of 38 and 40 for two rounds.

Glen Campbell and Michael Evans of Duncan picked up low net prizes with cards of 63 and 67. Ron Hungle, Nanaimo, was third with a 71.

Director Harold Painter, Duncan, awarded 13 prizes.

SHIPWRECK HOBBYISTS SCORE

Spanish Galleon Found Near Tofino

TOFINO—Remains of what is believed to be a Spanish galleon have been found near here by Dr. George Cottrell, Portland orthopedic surgeon, and a group of amateur divers.

Their hobby is searching out shipwrecks. Two years ago they combed these waters for the Tonquin, sunk about 1811, but instead found another wreck.

Their new find was located in Sidney Inlet, between here and Nootka. They found planking six inches thick and mast, a piece of heavy chain, and other articles which they will study.

The divers have completed their hunt for this year, but plan to continue next year.

TIDES TOUGH

Only One Finishes Long Swim

NANAIMO — Uta Allers, 16, of Wellington was the only one of 12 entries to finish a gruelling five-mile swim Saturday from the harbor here to Taylor Bay on Gabriola Island.

Her prize in the swim, held in connection with the annual Gabriola Island barbecue, was $100. She was in the water for four hours and swam an estimated 6½ miles.

First to drop out of the race, made doubly difficult by adverse tides and cold water, were the nine men who started.

Meta Torney, winner last year, was the first of the women to leave the water. Mrs. Ann Meraw of Vancouver had to quit only 200 yards from the finish line after having been in the water six hours.

Small Car Wrecked, Juveniles Unhurt

CROFTON — Four juveniles escaped injury when a car driven by Harold Sjostrom, 16, of Crofton, was wrecked after it hit a soft shoulder and rolled on the Osborn Bay Road at 3.45 p.m. Saturday.

Paul Sjostrom, owner of the 1954 small car, said the top, sides and front of the vehicle were smashed, and one back wheel was "bent so badly it wouldn't turn."

KANSAS CITY STAR'S ROY ROBERTS FAVORS SUMMIT MEET

Famed Editor Calls War With Russia 'Fantastic, Impossible'

War between the Western world and Russia "is fantastic and impossible, and I don't think there'll be one," famed U.S. newspaperman Roy Allison Roberts of the Kansas City Star said here today.

A behind-the-scenes power in American politics for nearly half a century, the 72-year-old pundit advocated continuing summit conferences to ease present world tension.

"I wouldn't have one summit conference; I'd have lots of them," he said.

He saw the current "spat" in Moscow between Vice-President Nixon and Soviet Premier Khrushchev as a wholesome rather than a derogatory development.

"Good spats help clarify the atmosphere."

Mr. Roberts admitted that any overnight reduction in U.S. defence spending would "jolt" the economy, but said the stimulant was not essential to the country's current high living standards.

Aid Roads, Health

"In the long pull, it would be more constructive to put money into roads, health measures. We could really help underprivileged nations.

Convinced there will be no war—"though we will not back down"—he looked on the present heavy defence outlay as a "transitory period" which though it may last for years would gradually "wear off" as international problems were settled.

"I am a great believer in time," helping to reduce existing difficulties, he stated.

He saw little possibility of the U.S. recognizing Red China as it would be contrary to present U.S. public opinion, though "in time I think it will come."

For any U.S. politician to advocate this at the moment would be "political suicide," he predicated.

However, it was only "common sense" in the UN efforts to maintain peace to have all the world's countries in it.

Recognition would come about gradually, with trade feelers and then trade on a rising scale.

UN Peace Efforts

U.S. support of Nationalist China he termed "a symbol, and we couldn't back down."

He foresaw the day when Red China and Formosa would co-exist to mutual satisfaction.

Main world trouble spot, he maintained, was not the Berlin crisis but in the Far East as oil from there was vital to European economy.

"This is the key: Russia wants to control the oil."

Main fault of the U.S., he said, is that the country wants to see everything accomplished "overnight."

"It won't be done that way, but by evolution and understanding."

We Will Learn

"We will learn to settle down, like England, which has lived under guns for centuries."

Continual rehashing of world problems by so-called commentators — dragging things to a boil—he looked on with quiet disfavor.

"If we had a moratorium on talk on both sides for six months, it might have a salutory effect."

Nixon Candidate

Mr. Roberts, who has covered every U.S. nominating convention since 1912, said Nixon would "unquestionably" be chosen as the Republican candidate as opposed to Nelson Rockefeller.

The vice-president, he stated, had all the qualifications excepting one: "He has never captured the imagination of the public."

But he had sat in on the front line of every major world crisis of the last six years, and, in Mr. Roberts' mind, would make a "good" president.

Mr. Roberts, a past president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, who has criss-crossed the world, said he had never had any individual political aspirations.

"I always figured I'd be more useful as a newspaperman than if I ran for office."

His definition of a good newspaperman was, in this order: "Sound legs, a good brain and the creative urge."

Vacationing Here

Today's president and general manager of the Kansas City Star, he is here until Wednesday with Mrs. Roberts on vacation. Then he heads for Jasper and Banff.

Retire?

"Never. It's my life and I love it."

BACK "IN HARNESS" is 17,000,000-gallon Smith's Hill reservoir, built in 1912 by the city but little used in recent years. Almost 1,000,000 gallons were drawn off to maintain pressure in Victoria water pipes last week, first use of the reservoir in two years. Aerial photo, looking south-easterly, of the 350-foot square reservoir, at Summit and The Rise, off Cook, was taken by Bill Halkett. Water Commissioner Ronald Upward said today the reservoir will see increasing use as the area's population continues to expand. Regular "sterilizing" of the open reservoir's water is carried out with liquid chlorine by water board staff.

Licence Issued For More Power

Water licences for development of the Kokish River hydro potential of 51,500 horsepower, on northern Vancouver Island, have been issued to the B.C. Power Commission.

But construction will depend on power demand of the upper Island, and immediate demands are being met, B.C. Power Commission officials state.

Issuance of the water licence was revealed today in the power commission annual report. Any development would create another construction boom for Campbell River, 86 miles south, some officials believe.

The report says, "Preliminary plans and cost estimates show that cost of energy from this development would be lower than costs from any other known source."

But the commission will have an additional 20,000 kilowatts available to it in October without the Kokish. At that time a contract to supply B.C. Electric in Victoria to that extent, will terminate.

NEW SOURCES

The report shows the commission engineers are investigating six new sources of hydro in B.C. The Homathko region north of Bute Inlet, is being studied for possible diversion of Chilko and Taseko Lakes without endangering fishery resources on the system. This would boost the Homathko potential to 1,400,000 kilowatts.

Also under current study is the Clearwater system north of Kamloops. A water licence application has been filed. Studies are inconjunction with the Fraser River Board which is primarily concerned with flood control measures.

STAMP FALLS

Further development of the Somass River near Port Alberni is proposed in a new scheme for a power project on the Stamp River — a tunnel, canal and pipeline between Boot Lagoon on Great Central Lake and a powerhouse below Stamp Falls.

Department of fisheries is studying the scheme also.

The commission is also giving new study to the Nimkish River on northern Vancouver Island and further diversions into the Strathcona Development at Campbell River.

Early development of any of these sources will depend on new power demands. Acting general-manager R. C. McMordie says the commission is now "in an entirely sound position as to generating capability in all areas of operation, a position it has not occupied for the past several years."

35 Per Cent Hike In Electricity From BCPC

British Columbia Power Commission today reported an 18 per cent increase in revenues and ended the fiscal year March 31 with a surplus of $97,492. But a deficit this year is anticipated.

The commission's 14th annual report also revealed its customers bought and used 35 per cent more power than in the previous fiscal year.

The commission generated and purchased 1,600,000,000 kilowatt hours—an increase of 400,000,000.

Acting general manager R. C. McMordie said this was an "abnormally large increase," due in part to the absence of pulp mill strikes of the previous year.

Retail sales were up 10 per cent.

HIGHLAND DANCER Angus MacKenzie, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. MacKenzie, 1912 Allenby Street, Victoria, won three major awards in the international under-16 contests at the Caledonian Games in Vancouver Saturday. His prowess at the sword dance and highland fling won him the C. W. Beatty Grand Challenge Cup, the Isabel McLean Grand Aggregate Cup and the MacGregor Memorial Cup. Angus is a pupil of Adeline and Heather Duncan in Victoria.

Youngsters In Weekend Accidents

[illegible]-year-old Lyle Newton, 2911 [illegible], is described as "improving" today at Jubilee Hospital where he was taken with head injuries after a fall from his bicycle on Ryan Street hill Saturday.

The boy was found by a passerby lying unconscious on the street and he was taken to hospital by city police.

Two other youngsters and a teen-aged driver went to hospital after traffic accidents in Victoria and Saanich Saturday and Sunday.

Terry Jackson, three, of 426 Parry, is in good condition at St. Joseph's where she was admitted for observation after she fell from a car on Millgrove about 8.30 p.m. Sunday.

The hospital said Terry received a head injury in the mishap.

Terrylynn Johnson, eight, of 2820 Gosworth, was treated at Jubilee Hospital for shock and a cut mouth and the 17-year-old driver of the car in which they were riding, for head injury and shock after a collision with a bus at Richmond and Oak Bay Saturday morning.

Police said the car went through a red light at the intersection. Bus driver was identified as Lloyd D. McCorquodale, 1620 Rowroyd.

98-YEAR-OLD DIES

She Knitted For Troops In Two Wars

Mrs. Annie Elliott, 98, resident of Victoria for the past 41 years, died Sunday in private hospital here.

She was born on a farm near Lucknow, Ont., one of 12 children, and lived there until she was 21, when she went to Minnesota to visit a brother. There she married a childhood sweetheart, A. W. Elliott, who was active in the real estate business after taking up residence here. He died here 20 years ago.

Mrs. Elliott was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and active in the church Women's Guild. She also was a member of the Order of the Easter Star and White Shrine of Jerusalem.

HELPED MANY

Her hobby was knitting, and during the First World War she knitted more than 200 pairs of socks. She then turned to knitting for welfare services, but when the Second World War broke out she went back to knitting for the troops.

Surviving are a brother, Donald McLean, of North Dakota, and nieces and nephews.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at 1.30 p.m. at Sands Mortuary, and will be followed by cremation.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today:

Nick Pope, [illegible] Johnson, $25 and licence suspension for speeding over 30.

Marianne Zander, 1342 Pembroke, $40 and Mrs. P. Herbers $40, for careless driving.

Robert S. Flegg, 1216 Styles, $10 for failing to notify Motor Vehicles Branch of a change of address.

'MIRACLE ESCAPE'

Tree Topples In Empty Park

High Winds Cause Land-Sea Trouble

A miracle or just plain luck saved dozens of children from death or injury this morning as a giant cottonwood toppled into Margaret Jenkins School playground.

Swayed by 40 mile an hour gusts the 100-foot trunk crashed down into the play area miraculously clear of neighborhood children.

The unseasonable high winds also made themselves felt in Juan de Fuca Strait and caused inconvenience to travellers when MV Kalakala cancelled its evening sailing Sunday due to rough seas.

Commenting on the felled tree, Mrs. Vivian Miles, 439 Richmond, said that "kids of all ages play softball and ride their bikes under and near the tree." The cottonwood was situated partly on her property.

"I just thank heaven that there were no kids in the school yard," she said, "which is most unusual for this time of year."

About 10.30 a.m. Mrs. Miles was doing her household chores when she heard a "rather peculiar crunching sound and I just thought it was the animals playing on the back porch."

"FIRECRACKERS"

"I thought it sounded like firecrackers," said daughter Linda, 14, who came out with her mother to see the wreckage.

Both confessed to a moment of panic until it became apparent that no children were under the tons of crumpled branches and foliage.

Tree was part of three separate trunks growing out of a common base in the extreme corner of the Miles' property next to the fence around the grass school play area.

STRAIT ROUGH

The master of the Kalakala cancelled out the 6 p.m. sailing from Port Angeles and the return sailing from Victoria because he decided the Strait was too rough for safety.

Sunday night also saw a 14-foot clinker-built inboard cruiser torn free from its mooring at Willows Beach. It was floated safely from Shell Island off Oak Bay at 8.30 a.m. today.

The craft, owned by Peter Spriggs, 928 Island Road, lodged on rocks of Shell Island during a wind storm and was left high and dry on an even keel until high tide today.

Winds continued strong again today, reaching 30 miles per hour on the average and 40 miles in gusts.

SMALL STORM

They were caused by a small storm moving southward along the edge of a high-pressure area now lying along the Pacific coast. It will give winds up to 20 miles tonight, and cloudy skies and strong winds again Tuesday morning. Tuesday afternoon will be mostly sunny.

Temperatures will remain cool, with the minimum overnight ranging from 48 to 52 degrees, and the maximum Tuesday reaching from 69 to 74 degrees, depending on location.

The high-pressure area is expected to bring a return of the high-hazard conditions prevailing in the B.C. woods a week ago, a B.C. Forest Service spokesman said today.

FIRE HAZARD

Conditions had been moderate for a few days, but the new fire hazard is expected to last until Thursday at least.

Firefighters are at work on eight fires in the Vancouver Forest District, which includes Vancouver Island. Two of these, at Knight Inlet and Stuard Island, north of Campbell River, were started by lightning strikes on the weekend.

Odorless Cream Depilatory Made for Sensitive Skins

By PENNY SAVER

Are you still fussing with razors and awkward equipment to remove hair under arms, on legs? Do you have to remove hair from your face? Modern cosmeticians have laboratories doing research and experiments all the time, and a fine result coming from one firm is a lovely depilatory cream that is simply patted on, then washed off. It's specially designed for the most sensitive skins, so it melts hair away without irritating skin.

Fragrant and pure, this cream has no unpleasant chemical odors. Smooth it on, leave it a few minutes and then wash it off in warm water. Depilatory discourages regrowth, too! You stay smooth-skinned longer.

Safe for even most delicate areas of the skin, use for face, arms, legs. Price for generous size tube is $2.

Have car. Will travel. Is that your family's song this summer? Make sure you have a place for all the necessities on those long rides, to keep car neat.

One "what-ever-would-we-do-without-it" item we had on our last trip was a sun visor kit. On previous car journeys everything was organized except for what to do with maps, sun glasses, quick spruce-up items. They all got tangled and lost in crevices of seats and glove compartment. A visor kit really saves the day.

One I've found has large handy zipper compartment for maps, sun glass case, and, for retouching make-up: Mirror (right there, and steady, to leave you with both hands free) and a place for comb.

Handy extra is a small note pad with pencil where you can get at 'em. Jot down name of coming motel, mileage and reminders.

Price of compact, handsome visor case is $1.[illegible]

DEAR ABBY . . .

The 'Light' of Her Life!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Sometimes I wonder if maybe I am crazy for putting up with this man of mine. Everything has to be spic and span! He goes on an "inspection tour"—looks in all the corners and criticizes my housekeeping, but he never turns a hand to help me.

The other night he looked in my oven with a flashlight!

He yelled and stormed because he found a little grease on the broiler. He made me scrub it at 11 o'clock at night.

Now he looks in the oven with a flashlight every day to make sure I cleaned it. What do you do with a nut like that?

NUT'S WIFE.

DEAR WIFE: Let him know that a little "light" on the subject is all right, but you can do without the "heat."

Clean your oven after each use and do the best job of housekeeping your time and energy will allow. If your husband still finds fault but refuses to turn a hand—you turn a deaf ear.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I was the girlfriend on the side for 14 years. He told me he was treated rotten at home (it was a lie) so like a fool I gave up seeing everybody but him. His wife died. I thought at last he would marry me. But do you know what he said? He said I proved to him that I didn't have enough character to be respectable, and he could never trust me behind his back!

On June 12 he married a girl he knew only five weeks. This lesson cost me 14 of the best years of my life. Please print this for the benefit of all the girls who are waiting for a married man's wife to drop dead. "EXPERIENCED."

* * *

DEAR ABBY: How many times does a woman have to turn a man down before he realizes that she wants nothing to do with him?

I am a widow, 56, but don't look it. He is a bachelor, 72, and looks it. This old geezer has told everybody in town that he is going to marry me. I can't go downtown any more without hearing it.

He has money but has a reputation for being very stingy. I know for a fact that he has relatives on the other side of the track who are starving to death.

He sends me store flowers and calls every day asking me to go out with him. I have run out of excuses. How can I get him to leave me alone?

PESTERED.

DEAR PESTERED: Quit giving him "excuses" and give him reasons. Tell him, frankly, that he is wasting his time pursuing you because you do not intend to go out with him. If he calls you again, repeat it.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with an 8-year-old child who is money crazy? He begs for money, offers to work for it and expects to get paid for everything he does. He saves every penny he gets his hands on, which is a good trait, but he is too money-crazy for his own good. I am in business and count my money at home before taking it to the bank. He stands over me and looks at the money like a real little miser. Can you tell me how to get him over this terrible complex? It keeps getting worse.

TROUBLED.

DEAR TROUBLED: Your son no doubt has developed this 'complex" about money at home. His ideas need to be reshaped, and you'd be wise to consult professional help while he's still young enough to mold.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Later Than You Think? But It's Never Too Late

Not long ago I printed a letter from a reader telling how she had found new interests and had built a new life for herself after her children were grown. As a result I have had letters from other women telling me about similar experiences.

Since I know from my mail that this is a time of severe readjustment for many women, I want to quote from two of these letters today. While it is much wiser to prepare ahead of time for this period in life by keeping and developing personal interests, it is still not to late even if you have neglected this in the past.

One letter says, "I have had some leisure time since my two children have left the home. Last year I bought a second-hand piano. I had taken lessons when I was young, more than 30 years ago. After practicing I can now play well enough to entertain my husband and son, and when my daughter comes home on a visit she and her brother sing when I play.

"When I have nerve tension I play the piano and do not feel that way any more."

Here is one woman who revived a long lost but cherished skill, and I myself know from experience that there is nothing which is so soothing and nothing which so successfully relieves tension as playing some musical instrument.

Another letter says. "About a month ago you printed a letter from a woman who took stock of herself just before her fortieth birthday. I have you to thank for inspiring me to take stock of myself just before my fiftieth birthday last summer. You made me realize that I needed new goals.

"In one of your columns you suggested that any woman who had not yet done things she wanted to do, like learning to swim, for instance, should do so before the half century mark. Prodded by this column I learned to swim and still do so once a week.

Soon after, my daughter asked me what my next goal was to be. I had worked before my children came and wondered if I could get a part time job on my own. I accomplished this, and was so thrilled to do so. This fall I am going to take high school French because my daughter wants to learn it and they do not teach it at her school. I still have and enjoy my job. Thanks for giving me a shot in the arm!"

I'll add only this—do not miss one of the most exciting chapters in life (those years from middle age on) simply because of boredom, lack of enthusiasm and narrow interests. You are free now to do many things you could not do before.

TODAY'S RECIPE

RASPBERRY CREAM TARTS

Two cups cold milk, 1 package vanilla instant pudding, 6 baked 4-inch tart shells, 2 cups sweetened fresh raspberries and ⅓ cup whipping cream.

Meanwhile whip cream, sweetening to taste. Just before serving, top each tart with the whipped cream and garnish with additional raspberries. Makes 6 tarts.

Candlelight For Vows

Centennial United Church was candlelit for the evening wedding of Miss Jill Pinniger and Allan Carl Ray Webb. Rev. H. Johnstone and Rev. F. Forster performed the double-ring ceremony. "O Happy Wedding Day" was sung by Miss Georgie Harper.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Pinniger and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Webb.

A floor-length gown of chiffon was worn by the bride. Bell skirt was caught up slightly at the front, flowing to a semi-train at the back. Sweetheart neckline of the bodice was decorated with pearls and crystal beads. A rhinestone tiara held her chapel-length veil and she carried red roses and stephanotis.

She was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. D. Owens, Mrs. J. Sheppard and Miss I. Webb were senior bridal attendants. They wore gowns of white flocked sheer over blue organza with blue picture hats. Cascade bouquets were of pink and cream gladioli. Little Debbie Pinniger and Shane Mawson were flower girls in similar gowns with gladioli corsages.

Joe Patterson was best man and Wesley Umphrey and Jack Pinniger were the ushers.

Jeannette Wakelyn's Wedding Set in St. Andrew's Cathedral

St. Andrew's Cathedral was the setting Saturday evening for the wedding which united Jeannette Mavis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Wakelyn of Kent Road, and Maurice Roland Morneau, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Morneau of Toronto Street. Father M. O'Connell conducted the ceremony.

For her marriage, fair-haired Miss Wakelyn chose a gown of chiffon and lace. Blue and white sequins sparkled on the fitted lace bodice which was fashioned with tiny cap sleeves and a scalloped neckline. A cummerbund of sequins extended into a slight train flowing into the bouffant skirt. She wore matching lily-point gloves. A coronet of blue and white sequins held her chapel-length veil. Red roses, stephanotis and stocks were in the bridal bouquet.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor, Mrs. K. P. Chalmers, wore a green nylon organdy dress. Bridesmaids Miss Joan McMillan and Elise Morneau wore similar dresses of white nylon organdy. All carried bouquets in same tones as gowns. Flower girls Catherine Brolly, Ireland and Catherine Chalmers wore frocks in green tone. They carried baskets of flowers.

Edward Olivier was best man and ushers were Raymond Morneau and David Wakelyn.

A three-tier cake centred the bridal table at the reception held in the Golden Slipper Club. It was decorated with six red rosebuds. Robert Barnes proposed the toast.

Leaving on a wedding trip to the Okanagan, the new Mrs. Morneau donned a floral sheath-style dress with beige duster coat, hat en tone and white accessories.

Newlyweds will make their new home at 4740 Rosehill Street, Royal Oak.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Samuel, 890 Darwin Road, have announced the engagement of their elder daughter, Patricia Joan, to Mr. Brian Frank Taylor, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor, 2735 Prior Street. The wedding will take place on Saturday, September 12, at 7.30 p.m. in St. Mark's Anglican Church. Canon Robert Willis will officiate. (Photo by William Boucher)

Women's Groups Influence Addition to Commission

OTTAWA (CP)—Mrs. Mary Quayle Innis, dean of women at University College, University of Toronto, was named to Canada's delegation at the Commonwealth education conference in the United Kingdom.

Her appointment was announced in a statement issued by the prime minister's office.

Mrs. Innis was the second addition made to the Canadian delegation.

G. A. Mosher of Halifax was added to the original 18-man delegation headed by George Drew, Canadian high commissioner to the United Kingdom.

Mrs. Innis is the only woman member. She flew to England for the final 10 days of the conference, which opened at Oxford on July 15.

The announcement gave no reason for the last-minute addition to the delegation.

Later a spokesman at the prime minister's office said in answer to questions that the lack of a woman member on the original delegation list had brought "some inquiries" from women's groups.

LOUISE DAVIS

ON ETIQUETTE

HESITATES TO JOIN OLDER GROUP

I am a new resident in the city. Recently a woman invited me to be her guest at a dinner meeting of a group in which she holds an important office. At the time I was invited, I was told that the members are all about my age, but when I arrived I realized that they were between ten and fifteen years older. How can I turn down the invitation to join the group without offending anyone, especially the friend who took me as her guest? Don't you think I would feel more at ease with a group nearer my age?

Louise

Louise Davis Answers:

What does age matter as long as you are compatible with the group? If you enjoy their company, surely you wouldn't consider them old fogies. So I suggest that you consider the group and each individual, regardless of age, for you take each other for what you are and brush aside the years. You can't afford to incur ill will, neither should you join a group because you feel obligated. As a newcomer, you would be enlarging your circle of friends by joining, and, through the members, you would meet others your own age. You can weigh the evidence by learning the purposes and projects of the organization. You might find it very worthwhile. If you do feel, however, that you must turn down the offer to become a member, you would, of course, be very foolish to give discrepancies in age as your reason. Yet, you can be tactfully frank. Perhaps you feel that you won't be able to give your time because of other commitments.

A meal that's so tempting on warm days, this seafood salad mold looks good and is delicious.

Serve Sparkling Seafood Salad

Too hot to eat? Not when you serve this sparkling molded salad. It looks so cool and good, and its piquant flavor is an appetite tempter. That cooling, bubbly appearance comes from using pale dry ginger ale as the liquid in which to dissolve the gelatin.

Serve this as a warm weather luncheon or supper to the family, or serve it at your special party.

GINGER SEAFOOD SALAD

Two envelopes (2 tablespoons) unflavored gelatin, 2 cups pale dry ginger ale, 1 cup commercial sour cream, 2 cups flaked crabmeat and lobster, combined; 3 tablespoons chopped sweet gherkins and ¼ cup chopped salted almonds.

Sprinkle gelatin over ginger ale to soften; stir over hot water until dissolved. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in remaining ingredients. Turn into five-cup mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until set. Unmold on salad greens and garnish with sliced egg and pickle.

Disposable Aprons New Invention

NEW YORK (UPI)—A woman artist's invention should eliminate those apron strings children frequently get tied to.

Matter of fact, Louise Pershing plans to do away with aprons as we women have known them.

The painter, a resident of New Hope, Pa., has produced a paper apron, to join the parade of disposables from tissues to towels.

"I've been giving a lot of thought to aprons," said the dark-haired Miss Pershing during a recent visit to New York. "When you have a small kitchen and a servantless home, you have to. And who can afford servants these days? I wanted to make the aprons pretty enough for the guests who offer to help the hostess."

Her thoughts, coupled with her skill as an artist, produced the disposables in three gaily-printed motifs — bandana, strawberry and ivy leaf. They are made with contoured bib and held in place with a tie-around belt.

The artist signs her paintings — and her aprons — as Louise Pershing. But in private life she is Mrs. Datus Berlin, the wife of a New York retail executive and mother of three boys—"another good reason for aprons," she laughed.

Garden Hint

"Neither a borrower nor a lender be" goes the old saying. However, a lender of garden tools can help to insure their return by painting all the handles in one distinctive color. A bright orange or red not only brands the tools, but makes them easier to find if they're left lying in the shrubbery.

BRIDGE LESSON

By OSWALD JACOBY

East's bids of five, six and seven hearts were all good sacrifice bids. Even at seven hearts his partner would only be down four tricks for a 700-point loss and, as East had correctly reasoned, South would have no trouble with either six diamonds or six no-trump.

What East had failed to reason was that South was also cold for seven no-trump and there was no sacrifice available against that bid.

Of course, South did not bid that seven no-trump himself. Also, he did not double seven hearts as many players would. Instead he passed and left matters up to his partner.

This gave North a problem but he had little trouble solving it. North had considered a seven bid over his partner's six diamonds and again over his partner's six no-trump but had refrained on the theory that South had taken command with his Blackwood four no-trump.

When South failed to double seven hearts it was a different story. Obviously, he did not think that West could make it. Hence, he wanted North to go to seven no-trump if he could and with three top spades North was willing.

What Is Wrong With Summer TV? Just About Everything

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

INVECTIVE—

Out of the blight that covers TV
I could spit from pole to pole
At the wretched re-runs that plague me,
That twist and haunt my soul.

In the fell clutch of summer repeats
I not only wince but I yell out loud,
My helpless, incoherent bleats
From a head that is bloody and bowed.

It matters not how great my hate,
How hard I pray they change the scroll,
The channels mastermind my fate,
The blasted networks own my soul.

The above with apologies to the memory of William Ernest Henley and his unforgettable "Invictus."

But that's all the apologizing that's going to be done.

Summer television is a disgrace. It's a foist, a pawning off of something old as something new.

It's a gyp.

Some try, of course.

For instance Ed Sullivan offers a new show each week. So does Steel Hour. There are a few others, Chevy Show, Peck's Bad Girl, Arthur Murray, Perry Presents, 21 Beacon Street and the Dave King show for Kraft.

Then there are the live shows, such as the baseball games, the fights, hydroplaning, Davis Cup tennis, golf. But the bulk of these are on an occasional basis.

Perhaps best trier of all is the CBC. At least it substitutes summer programs for winter programs of shows produced in Canada. However, like everyone else, its U.S. shows offer the same tired old faces we've been watching all winter.

Checking the shows off on your fingers this way they may appear to bulk in a fair manner. But they don't. Take in ratio to the total hours that the channels are on the air daily then the new shows are but a scant yard of sand on the littered beaches of summer viewing.

* * *

ALTHOUGH I DON'T KNOW the first thing about the financial arrangements between sponsors and the channels or networks, I often wonder why a firm would pay out its hard-earned dollars to sponsor summer re-runs, in some instances a show they sponsored first time around when it was new. Who are they hoping to sell? The gathering dust on the unlit picture tube?

Surely the period of the summer doldrums would be an excellent time to experiment with pilot films of shows destined for autumn. Some kind of public opinion trend could be established and then owners of the shows would have a solid idea of whether or not their material was worthwhile.

It might also be the time for experimenting with new actors, singers, dancers, choreographers, playwrights.

The way it is now summer is a time wasted when it should be a time for productivity in the interests of a better medium in the fall and winter.

Meanwhile I'm so bored I'd even whistle at Whistler's mother.

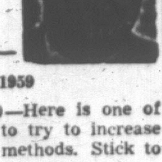
CARROLL RIGHTER'S ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST



TUESDAY, JULY 28, 1959

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Here is one of those days when you are tempted to try to increase your income or benefits by unwise methods. Stick to present security and work hard to repair property or retain what you now have, whether it is much or little. See expert.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Being ruthless in your desire to get ahead today will only have serious repercussions. Go in for self-analysis instead and for taking inventory. Don't criticize others or belittle them in any way. Concentrate on self-betterment.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—A grave error could be made today if you do not take yourself in hand and forget that private anxiety. A few moments of clear thinking will do more good than all the fretting imaginable. Get out and assist the afflicted and you win out.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—A day for real caution in all financial affairs as well as anything that concerns your good name. You cannot afford those investments you have in mind and comrades cannot understand your ideas, as yet. Keep working steadily, as usual.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Take care you do not break any rules today, or you may have serious loss. Curb your temper, too, or you may hurt the feelings of a higher-up and this could be very detrimental to your interests. Think before you act.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Better stick to regular routine today instead of dropping everything in search of seemingly greener pastures. These are nothing but will-o'-the-wisps right now. Find a more efficient way of doing your work. Read paper for ideas.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—It's all right to consult that advisor today, but do not follow advice to the letter since he, or she is not fully cognizant of your true state of affairs. Act justly. Help a friend in need.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Do your best to stay out of argument ensuing between a stubborn associate and a higher-up. It does not concern you at all. Hence, you do not lose friendships and neither do you get emotionally upset. Be objective, neutral.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Labor carefully now or you can have upsets, spills, ruin furniture, etc. Relax at your work and keep an even pace. Later, look into matters of health. Also, in p.m. you must get wardrobe in order, especially stockings or hose.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—It is not very likely that you will get that raise or added revenue you have contemplated just now, so do not be extravagant with savings. P.M. placate loved one with smiling mien and gentle ways. Be good.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Better leave home early and avoid that annoying situation. Impress others with your loyal support, though your ideas may be at variance with theirs. Each has the right to own particular opinion. Take it easy tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Imperative you act very courteously and magnanimously with fellow workers and friends now, though they may not agree with you at all. Get regular work done methodically, do your shopping, but keep within your budget.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TUESDAY . . .

The dear child born Tuesday soon believes in order to know his or her relative position with others, it is necessary to pick a quarrel. Early let your progeny be enrolled in some sports activity so that excessive energy may be used up constructively. Then teach to consider other person's viewpoints, too. Excellent chart for anything in connection with government, and very fine for the police field.

TOPS

This house is less than two years old and has top location—Cadboro Bay, on a quiet street near the school. Built by one of the leading builders to an excellent plan. N.H.A. but with many special features. It is spacious—three bedrooms and a total of 1,260 sq. ft., with a full high basement. It is attractive—in outside appearance and landscaping; in the living and dining rooms which have individuality; and in the very well planned kitchen with its breakfast nook with sea view and its special laundry fixtures. It is, in our opinion, the best buy in town with full price, including the N.H.A. mortgage, of only $17,000

SAFETY WEEK FOR HEAVY INDUSTRY

First "safety week" in the history of B.C.'s heavy construction industry will be held the week of Aug. 3, with Premier Bennett invited to launch the campaign at a ceremony at Workmen's Compensation Board headquarters, Vancouver.

The Premier will raise a "no accident" flag, and similar flag-raising ceremonies will be held at 65 heavy construction projects throughout the province.

Last year 27 workers were killed in the industry and 813 injured.

. . . FISH STRIKE

South Westminster, employing 50 IWA members, signed to pay the final 12 per cent figure (21 cents an hour more) demanded by the union shortly before the strike began July 6.

Brownlee Industries, also of South Westminster, will pay its 3 IWA shingle mill employees the original 20 per cent (another 34 cents an hour) demand.

PAYMENTS

Meanwhile, the union district office in Vancouver today was drawing up plans to give strike relief payments to members in need.

Secretary George Mitchell declined to say what would decide which members will receive the money.

"It will go to those who get it," he said. "That's all I will say."

Earlier, the union said married men would get $14 a week plus $3 for each child; single men $8 a week. But certain conditions had to be met first, including picket duty.

The strike entered its fourth week today with no sign of a change in the yield-never stand adopted by both sides.

The bill to the provincial economy so far is estimated at $42,000,000.

Meanwhile, the salmon fishermen, who voted 80.5 per cent in favor of a strike in an earlier vote, brought in a 68 per cent vote for strike action in a second ballot counted Sunday.

Homer Stevens, secretary of the UFAWU, said today the drop in the "for" vote was due to "last-minute high pressure tactics of the companies."

STRIKE VOTE

But he said the strike vote this year showed 14 per cent more ballots than were cast in the August 1958 vote.

The second vote Sunday was on new fish prices offered by B.C. Fisheries Association—21 cents a pound for coho (20 cents offered earlier), 10½ cents for pinks (10), and 8½ cents for summer chums (8).

Meanwhile, Mr. Stevens said the strike begun noon Saturday may be a long one, and that the union had the funds to sustain a lengthy walkout.

He said there was no regular strike pay, but local union officials had instructions to help members in need.

He said salmon fishing would continue for members' families, and some fish would be sold directly to the public at dockside, the money to go into the union strike fund.

Four main companies are represented in B.C. Fisheries Association. They are B.C. Packers, Canadian Fishing Co., Nelson Bros. Fisheries and ABC Packing Co.

Forty per cent of the Fisheries Association interests are owned by the H. R. MacMillan Ltd., one of the big companies involved in the current coast loggers' strike.

Tee Lefties Tourney

WENATCHEE, Wash. (AP) —Jack Walters of Tacoma won his eighth North West left-handers' golf tournament Saturday with a 76 card that gave him 150 for the two-day tourney.

Bob Mouncer of Elma, Wash., had Saturday's hottest round—a par 72—and wound up low in the 9-14 handicap flight with a 158.

Ian MacFarlane of Chilliwack placed second to Mouncer with a 160.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR ALTERATIONS TO THIRD AND FOURTH FLOORS, FEDERAL BUILDING, VICTORIA," will be received in the office of DISTRICT MANAGER, PUBLIC WORKS CANADA, 1110 W. GEORGIA, VANCOUVER, until 2.30 p.m. on AUGUST 10, 1959.

THIS SHOULD KEEP BOYS QUIET

Male members of noted fishing family will probably speak more quietly of angling prowess around home after June James' efforts at Cowichan Bay Sunday night. She reeled in 29¼ and 17¼-pound salmon while husband, Dick, could only manage 18-pounder. Even son, Ricky, seems impressed although he won playground derby at Ogden Point breakwater last week with two-pound rock cod and landed 31-pound Tyee to win Port Alberni junior salmon derby last summer. June earned rung in Cowichan Bay ladder derby with larger fish. Dick, 1956 winner of event, had earlier earned rung with 26¾-pounder.

CAPTURED while trying to fly a group of Cubans from country was Rafael del Pino, one of Fidel Castro's most wanted enemies. Capture was said to have taken place 20 miles east of Havana. (AP

Peewee Tigers Still Terrorize Hapless Rivals

As long as Don McNeill and Frank Alexander are playing for Saanich Tigers, other teams in the peewee division of the Victoria Minor Lacrosse Association aren't going anywhere, or so it would seem.

McNeill fired eight goals and Alexander tallied four times as the Tigers romped to another win Saturday, an 18-8 decision over Victoria City.

In a bantam game, Punjab United turned back Combines, 13-4.

ONE-WAY TICKET TAYLOR'S REWARD FOR LATE SLEEP

CHICAGO (AP) — Baltimore outfielder Joe Taylor, pleading he had overslept after arriving late at Comiskey Park Sunday for the Orioles-Chicago White Sox double-header, was sold outright to Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League.

"He will make his next appearance for Vancouver," declared bristling Orioles' manager Paul Richards.

The disposal of Taylor, who hit .156 in 32 batting attempts after being brought up from the minors June 17, left the Orioles with 24 players on the roster, one below the limit.

Split-Second Timing For U.K. Rocket Tests

By JOHN FARQUHARSON

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — Another major step forward in Britain's ballistic missile research program was taken with the recent successful firing at Australia's Woomera rocket range of the third Black Knight test vehicle. The sleek, 35-foot missile, three feet in diameter, soared to a maximum height of 500 miles and 70 miles down the South Australian desert range.

Every time a Black Knight flames off the launching pad to nose out new secrets in space, it involves a highly-concerted split-second technical effort by the weapons research establishment at Salisbury, South Australia, the firing staff at Woomera, and the sponsors and makers in Britain.

THOROUGH CHECK

The "back room" work begins when a freighter aircraft from England lands at Evetts Field, near the Woomera range-head. The huge crate containing the research rocket is loaded onto a truck which carries it to the test shop, where the missile is assembled and checked. Then the tested missile is taken to the firing ramp and erected to its near-vertical firing position.

A complete dress rehearsal of the firing program is carried through and every detail of behavior observed and checked.

Launching time is set. Far out on the range, the few homesteads in the vicinity are warned of the test.

The homesteaders have been provided with strong, specially-built shelters to protect them from what, say Woomera scientists, is a "one-in-a-million chance of danger."

Back at the range-head, men and women, generally about 200 of them, move out to their posts. Their instruments are on both flanks of the range, but wherever they are, the communications network keeps them in continuous contact with the trial controller.

DRAMATIC COUNT

Instruments are checked and and when all is ready the tense count-down begins — 15 minutes to go! Two minutes to go! The automatic sequence takes charge to indicate the final stages with calculated precision.

"Pressure tanks . . . cooling water on-launcher lights . . . start recorders . . . switch to internal batteries . . . start plotting . . . uncage syros . . . eject umbilical . . . open h.t.p valves . . . zero . . . thrust develops!"

At plus five seconds, the liquid-fueled, conical-nosed missile rises slowly from the launching pad, belching flame and steam from its four rocket engines.

At "flame out," the kerosene and peroxide fuel is exhausted, but the rocket continues to soar 100, 200, over 300 miles, or more, until its great kinetic energy is expended, the ascent ceases, and it starts to fall back to earth.

The "round down" then starts, Operators ease up. Instruments are turned off, film is removed and labelled, records collected. The recovery party sets out and, on occasion, parts have been recovered and shipped to Britain for examination within 24 hours of the trial.

Sports Cars Big Time Now In B.C. Racing

VANCOUVER (CP) — More than 18,000 spectators turned out Sunday at suburban Coquitlam's Westwood racing circuit to see sports car racing become a big-time sport in British Columbia.

The 1.8-mile, $120,000 track is owned and operated by the Sports Car Club of B.C.

Michael Balfe, club vice-president, was taken to hospital with a concussion and bruises when his TR-E rolled three times in a turn during a practice race. His condition Sunday night was reported as satisfactory.

Pete Lovely of Seattle, Wash., and a new Lotus is race proved the fastest combination in the seven races. He won the under-1,500 cc modified race at 73.6 mph and also set the lap record at 75.6 mph.

Frank Becker of Seattle, driving a two-litre Ferrari, averaged 72.7 mph to win the open modified race.

Olympic Coach

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP)—John Faulkner of London, Ont., has been appointed coach of Canada's swimming team to the 1960 Olympic Games at Rome. Dick Jack of Vancouver, past president of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association, was chosen team manager.

The appointments were made at the annual meeting of the CASA Saturday.

Dr. Paul Hauch of London took over as president of the CASA and Faulkner was elected secretary.

MacKay Drops Giant-Killer

HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP) — Power-hitting Barry MacKay of the United States chopped down giant-killer Ian Vermaak of South Africa 9-7, 10-8, 6-0 Sunday, successfully defending his Pennsylvania lawn tennis championship.

South Africa, however, earned half a loaf as her tennis queen, Sandra Reynolds, rallied to defeat fellow countrywoman Renee Schuurman 1-6, 6-1, 6-4. The women met in the first all-foreign women's final in the 60-year history of this tournament.

Vermaak fought his way into the final Saturday with a [illegible] victory over U.S. Davis Cup ace Alex Olmedo.

BACK TO BAD OLD DAYS

'Red Capitalist'

VIENNA (AP) — A 480-member delegation from Red China arrived for the Communist-sponsored world youth festival opening here Sunday and presented "one capitalist."

He claims to be making as much money out of his chemical factory in Tientsin now as he did "before our liberation" by the Communists in 1949.

Western reporters asked the "capitalist," Wang Kuang Ying how he did it.

Wang Ying proceeded:

"Before the liberation in 1949, I was a people-exploiting capitalist and I made too much money.

"Then I was re-educated.

"Then I regained the confidence of our great people.

"Then I was given back my factory and became manager.

"Now I am a capitalist again."

Asked how much money he makes now, he replied: "Same money I made before the liberation."

Wang Ying said he gets 150 yuan a month plus an annual five per cent interest of the capital invested in his factory.

A skilled worker gets 70 yuan.

Wang Ying said this was "very, very good income. After all, a ready-made suit costs only 90 to 100 yuan."

The yuan is quoted at 2.61 to the dollar.

REAL ESTATE

By Don Whyte

We are always pleased to present the buying public a home which offers a little more. Mr. F. A. Robinson has designed and built a home which offers a great deal more. Freddy has created on ½ of an acre Uplands lot an outstanding example of contemporary architecture. He has blended this home into the hillside to create secluded, sheltered patio areas and to take advantage of the view of Mt. Baker.

The many modern materials have been developed with harmony; Vermont slate, selected wood panelling, wallpapers, wall-to-wall carpets, exquisite matching light fixtures to name a few.

The plan is completely functional with four distinct areas. The master bedroom and den are separated from the main core of the house. The main core contains the three family bedrooms and bathroom. The kitchen, utility and family room, and the magnificent living room and dining room.

The kitchen is completely equipped with the latest in Westinghouse appliances. The bathrooms are ceramic tile from floor to ceiling. There are a myriad of cupboards and closets.

For modern family living it is indeed a dream home. The address is

QUEEN 'DRAINED OFF' AUDIENCES

Vancouver Festival Draws Cheers—Not Enough Cash

By PETER BUCKLEY

VANCOUVER (CP) — The box-office isn't what it could be, but there is no lack of critical or audience enthusiasm as the Vancouver International Festival moves toward the half-way mark.

Despite a few setbacks, ticket sales for the five weeks of concerts and other presentations are running some 40 per cent ahead of last year. Receipts totalled $143,236 in the first week alone.

There have been some busts, financially. Among them were a pair of concerts last week featuring Canadian performers, but festival officials said a gala concert for the Queen a few days earlier—with seat prices running in the $7 bracket—drained much of the audience.

The biggest festival production, a costly presentation of Gluck's Orpheus and Eurydice with sopranos Kerstin Meyer of Sweden and Mary Costa of Los Angeles, drew less than full houses in its first three of six performances.

HAD SELLOUTS TOO

In contrast two concerts under Herbert von Karajan of the Berlin Philharmonic were sellouts and other productions have had near-capacity audiences.

Still to come before the festival ends Aug. 15 are several performances that could jolt further life into sales. Two symphonic concerts under Bruno Walter are sure-fire full houses and good turnouts are expected for the festival's feature play, Schiller's "Mary Stuart," and a six-night stand by Japan's all-girl Takarazuka Dance Theatre.

How do the experts find the festival?

Howard Taubman of the New York Time's critical staff reported the festival "alive and bursting with energy." Other out-of-town critics also have been generous.

John Kraglund of the Toronto Globe and Mail found parts of the opening Von Karajan concert "as exciting a performance as we have heard from any orchestra in a long time."

"CULTURAL SMASH"

The orchestra "found new strength and confidence" under the Austrian-born conductor, said Eric McLean of the Montreal Star, John Voorhees of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer said the festival "gives every indication of being a cultural 'smash'."

Of the festival's Orpheus, Mr. Kraglund commented: "Even with flaws, some of which are certain to vanish in subsequent performnces, it is an operatic production of which the VIF or any other festival should be proud."

Much of the credit for the festival's success so far has been laid to the city's new $6,000,000 civic auditorium, named the Queen Elizabeth Theatre during the Royal visit here. Mr. von Karajan said it is "one of the best in the world."

HOFFA INVITED TO LIBEL SUIT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert Kennedy, counsel 'for Senate rackets committee, Sunday invited James R. Hoffa to sue him for libel, and added:

If Hoffa loses the suit he should resign as president of the Teamsters Union.

Hoffa said he would sue his chief questioner after Kennedy attacked him in a TV program.

Nixon, Mr. K. Seen on TV

NEW YORK (AP) — The video tape-recording of the Richard Nixon-Nikita Khrushchev debate was seen Saturday night over the three major United States television networks, despite a request from American government circles that it be delayed.

The show ran for about 16 minutes. Some observers were surprised by the apparent good nature shown by both parties.

It seemed to be a good-humored exchange of strong opinions, in a general atmosphere of laughter and backslapping. The tape broadcast made little news in itself, since the text of the debate had been available to reporters for some time, and other reporters had been on the spot.

MIDGET OR CHILD LED BURGLARS TO FORTUNE

LONDON (AP)—A burglar gang spearheaded by a child or midget made off with £20,000 in a weekend raid on an East London bank.

Police said they got into the bank by pushing a tiny member of the gang between the bars protecting a lavatory window. The tiny one then let the mob in through the front door.

Skin-Divers Warned To Show Signal Flag

Failure to display a warning flag has brought a number of close calls for local skin divers in the Ogden Point breakwater area where B.C. Pilotage launches pass frequently.

The pilotage says divers have been going down in the channel inside the breakwater without showing the internationally-recognized red flag with white diagonal, indicating "diver below."

This flag should be displayed either from a diving tender or from a float immediately above the diving operation.

CITY MAN ON LAST LAP OF SOLO SAIL

Around World in Tiny Ship

HONOLULU (AP) — A Victoria man who has sailed 30,200 miles alone on a trip around the world in his 20-foot boat Trekka, stopped here this week or his way home.

John Guzzwell, 29, arrived unheralded Wednesday night after a 62-day voyage of 5,400 miles from the Panama Canal.

Guzzwell, builder and owner of the craft he calls a "light-displacement midget ocean racer," left British Columbia in September, 1955, on the world voyage.

When he got here Wednesday it was his second Honolulu call of the trip. He was here the first time in June, 1956.

After that he sailed to New Zealand, Australia and the Barrier Reef; then across the Indian Ocean to Durban, South Africa, around the Cape of Good Hope to Barbados, and through the canal back to Honolulu.

In addition to the 30,200 miles he sailed his own boat alone, Guzzwell said he sailed for most of 18 months with Brig. Miles Smeaton of Victoria in the yacht Tzu Hang from New Zealand to Australia and South America during 1957 and early 1958.

He was in the Tzu Hang when she lost her mast in a storm off South America.

"I've been ashore only three weeks since I left Capetown in February," he said.

DEANE FINLAYSON

Tory Chief Asks Auditor-General

NELSON (CP) — Provincial Progressive Conservative leader Deane Finlayson Saturday demanded the government hire an auditor-general because "the public should have some assurance that statements published by their elected representatives are factual."

Mr. Finlayson, addressing a party convention here, said the "raging controversy" over provincial debt pointed to a need for an auditor-general.

"For purely political advantage, the premier will light a fire to obscure from the public the true state of the province's finances," he said.

He referred to a ceremony which the B.C. Social Credit League will hold at Kelowna Aug. 1 to mark the clearing off of the province's net debt and the seventh anniversary of the Social Credit Party's rise to power.

"At both Westminster and Ottawa, auditors-general perform a useful purpose and command wide respect for their impartial examination of spending and appraisal of financial commitments," Mr. Finlayson said. "B.C. would benefit by doing the same thing."

U.S. 'AIR CAR' SKIPS ROADS ON 'CUSHION'

WOOD-RIDGE, N.J. (AP)—The Curtiss-Wright Corporation has announced that production of a four-passenger "air-car" will start at its South Bend, Ind., division in November.

The corporation said the 300-horsepower air-car "travels on a cushion of low pressure, low velocity air at a height of from 6 to 12 inches, and can travel equally well over land, water, swamps or mud."

Roy T. Hurley, Curtiss-Wright chairman and president, said the air-car opens the way for low-cost transportation without expensive paved roads.

Nasser Threatens Israel As Mid-East Feud Flares

PREMIER FIDEL CASTRO
A document worth $71 million

'WILL OF THE PEOPLE'

Million Hail 'Chief' Castro

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro was swept back into the Cuban premiership Sunday night by an enormous popular demonstration he had called for the purpose.

The spectacular crowd estimated at nearly 1,000,000 cheered wildly as he told them he would bow to "the will of the people" and resume office.

The sea of humanity sent up reverberating cheers as Castro, by inference, told off critics in the United States.

The 32-year-old revolutionary leader asserted that Cuba is not a protectorate or colony of any other country but a free sovereign nation and "we have to account to no one."

Castro said Cuba wants to be friends with all nations but cannot be with those "who offend us, who insult us and who exploit us" or with any vested interest which tries to "impose itself on the destiny of our people."

In 2½ hours of talk, Castro did not mention Communism. He referred to it only obliquely, when hitting at his critics, but apparently did not feel it necessary to deny their charges that he is letting the Reds influence his government.

Machete Symbol of Revolution

Uptown Havana's vast Civica Plaza was packed with the shouting, cheering throng. Castro told it emotionally that from now on the "symbol of our revolution will be the machete" — the long, sharp knife used for cutting sugar cane.

The announcement provoked furious response during which some 400,000 campesinos — farmers — brought from the provinces to swell the demonstration, clashed their machetes together in unison to add to the general uproar.

Castro whipped up another ovation when he added that if his enemies should ever think of coming back to Cuba: "Let them contemplate for just about five minutes those machetes."

Castro made it clear that such mammoth demonstrations will be held whenever it is considered necessary to demonstrate popular support for his policies. Sunday's, officially celebrating the anniversary of his 26th of July revolutionary movement, was called originally to demonstrate support for his land redistributing pro-pram.

Thousand Doves, Candy From Sky

Castro said it was only the will of the people that persuaded him to resume the premiership he left nine days ago to force the resignation of provisional president Manuel Uruttia.

The first announcement of his return to office came from President Osvaldo Dorticos, Urrutia's successor. It set off a wild, jubilant ovation, with the campesinos joyously throwing straw hats into the air. Castro had announced he would leave the decision to the people.

Enormous showmanship went into making the rally the spectacular thing it was. Gimmicks included the release of a thousand doves as Castro made his appearance and release of hundreds of red, white and blue balloons trailing the black and red colors of the 26th of July movement.

Planes and helicopters zoomed low overhead, dropping small, multi-colored parachutes containing candy.

Before the speech, a cabinet minister presented Castro with evidence of recovery of $20,000,000 in cash and $51,000,000 worth of property from collaborators of Batista.

SWEETHEARTS INSURED

No Love Lost

BIRMINGHAM, England (Reuters) — Latins may be lousy lovers, but worried English swains aren't taking any chances.

They're taking out insurance on girl friends who vacation on the continent just in case they fall for those dilated nostrils and impassioned looks of foreign romeos.

One Birmingham insurance broker reported that 200 young men had taken out policies which pay £1,000 if their financees break off the engagement and marry a continental.

Premiums are highest for girls between 17 and 25—30s for £100—and lower for those from 25 to 30. Women over 30 are considered a safe risk.

West Plans Big Three Meet Soon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Diplomatic sources said today that President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and President Charles de Gaulle of France probably will meet in Paris in late August or September.

The sources predicted the Western Big Three would get together either to prepare for a summit conference with Russia if an agreement for a summit meeting is reached at Geneva, or to discuss strategy if the Geneva talks fail.

The informants said that the Western chiefs probably would meet in late August if the foreign ministers' conference breaks up in complete deadlock and the Berlin crisis is intensified.

No firm agreement has been made for the Western Big Three talks but diplomatic sources said the plan has figured in high-level discussions of the allied steps to follow the Geneva talks.

A western meeting probably would be held simultaneously with a NATO heads-of-government meeting.

In either event, the sources said, this would enable Eisenhower and De Gaulle to meet and hold their long-postponed discussion of the U.S.-French disagreements.

PEARSON URGES SUMMIT NOW

MONTREAL (CP) — The Geneva foreign ministers' conference should be ended and a summit conference held as soon as possible, former external affairs minister Lester Pearson said Sunday.

"It seems that Mr. Khrushchev is reserving all the big decisions for himself, so the Western powers might just as well meet him at the summit now," Mr. Pearson told a press conference before sailing for Europe.

RUSSIANS UNBENDING AT GENEVA

GENEVA (UPI) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko failed today to give a hoped-for indication that Russia was ready to agree to a Berlin truce with the West on other than Soviet terms.

Gromyko conferred for two hours over lunch with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. Reliable big four conference sources said the Russian did not produce an anticipated move that might break the Geneva deadlock and perhaps point toward a summit meeting.

The meeting came in the ninth gloomy week of the talks. Only this weekend the U.S. and Britain shelved their wide-open differences on summit policy and began to press the Soviets for a quick Berlin solution.

Huge Forest Fire Licks At Village

ST. BERNARD DES LACS Que. (CP)—A blazing forest inferno, whipped madly by winds gusting to 40 miles an hour today threatened to destroy this remote Gaspe community.

The villagers were told early today to flee their homes in government trucks as the forest fire nibbled at the outskirts, demolishing four or five farm buildings.

Other small communities in this rugged woodland area of the Gaspe Peninsula were reported in fear that the spreading holocaust may also engulf them unless rain halts the flames.

"The situation is alarming," said Mayor Edouard Keable of nearby Cap Chat, a town of 2,000 people on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River.

(See Page 7)

LENINGRAD (UPI)—U.S. Vice-President Richard Nixon got a friendly welcome to Leningrad today. But after a "runaround" in touring the Soviet ice breaker Lenin, he put the pressure on and saw to it that Vice-Adm. Hyman G. Rickover got a thorough look at the vessel.

Rickover, who had complained after a one-hour tour of the nuclear-powered ship that he was getting a runaround, was invited to stay longer. After staying for another three hours, he said:

"I could see everything I wanted to see. They asked, 'were you satisfied?' I said, 'no, but I'm pleased.'

"I don't think any American has had the opportunity to see what I saw. I am the first American to have the opportunity to see the entire (reactor) plant."

'They've Done Good Job' Says Admiral

Rickover said the 1,600-ton ship has three reactors which are no more advanced in design than our reactors. The design is adequate for their purposes. You can't say that one type of reactor is superior to another."

He added that "they have nothing new in the way of electronic control. They are trying out these things. They have done a very creditable job and served their purpose. They have done a good job and I suggest that you (the reporters accompanying Nixon) say so in your stories."

Nixon flew here from Moscow on a Soviet TU-104 jet on the second leg of his "peace and friendship" swing through the Soviet Union.

Nixon, Mrs. Nixon, and the rest of his entourage got a hearty welcome from some 1,500 persons at Leningrad airport along with Soviet first deputy premier and Mrs. Frol Kozlov, who at the last moment were surprise additions to the passenger list.

On his arrival Nixon told the crowd at the sun-drenched airport that he and Premier Khrushchev agreed during their talks that "differences between nations must be settled at the conference table and not on the battlefield."

"So my message to the people of Leningrad from the people of the United States is peace for all the world," Nixon said.

Challenge Sparks War Talk

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (Reuters) — The United Arab Republic put its naval might on display today following a threat by President Gamal Abdel Nasser to "exterminate Israel."

Nasser reviewed the fleet in a windup of celebrations marking the seventh anniversary of the revolution that overthrew King Farouk.

The UAR president made one of his most-violent attacks on Israel Sunday night, the third anniversary of Egypt's nationalization of the Suez Canal. He said his country wants a decisive battle with Israel and "this time we will exterminate Israel."

Nasser referred to the Jewish state as a "crime established by treachery and imperialism."

In his bristling, confident speech, Nasser said he wanted to reply to what he called menacing statements from Moshe Dayan, former Israeli chief of staff.

"If Dayan is talking about a battle, we accept this challenge," Nasser said. "All Arabs want a showdown battle to wipe out the crime of 1948" —a reference to the creation of Israel.

"When they (Israel) attacked us in 1956 our orders were not to strike at cities, but in the next battle we shall erase Israel," Nasser declared.

LET THEM COME

He said Dayan was talking "insolently" about a new invasion.

"We await them and anybody else who may back them," said Nasser.

He cited the UAR's new industrialization program as grounds for optimism. He said the UAR soon will promise its own armored cars, tanks and planes.

"The industrial revolution in our country is a rope tightening around Israeli's neck," he added.

Nasser was speaking at a ceremony commemorating Egypt's nationalization of the

Strike To Grow On Wednesday

One of the worst labor crises in B.C.'s history faces the province today with its two biggest industries completely shut down by strikes involving 32,500 workers.

No break was reported today in the three-week-old coast lumber walkout, while the province's complete salmon fishing fleet became idle after 5,500 fishermen went on strike Saturday.

Some 3,650 fish cannery workers and tendermen continued to work today to prevent fish spoilage, but will join the striking fishermen Wednesday.

United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union set 11 a.m. Wednesday as the deadline but said it would continue to handle fish unloaded at plants by midnight today "provided the salmon was caught prior to midnight Sunday."

The woodworkers and three fish groups all want more money, either in the form of direct wages or, in the case of the tendermen, as a bonus on the amount handled.

Two mainland lumber companies have broken away from Forest Industrial Relations and signed agreements with some 80 members of the striking coast woodworkers it was learned today.

Joe Madden, president of Local 1-357 in New Westminster of the International Woodworkers of America, told The Times both companies agreed to pay wage increases.

SPECIAL SESSION REJECTED

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks today rejected a proposal by Opposition Leader Robert Strachan that B.C's current labor unrest should be dealt with in a special session of the Legislature.

The minister said the only step the legislature could take would be to order compulsory arbitration in the fishing and lumber strikes.

"But this has not been acceptable to this point. If Mr. Strachan is proposing this, why doesn't he say so. I can only presume that is what is in the back of his mind."

PARIS PRESENTS THE LONG LOOK FOR FALL

Lolita's the Fashion—But Modest

PARIS (UPI) — Lolita hit the high-fashion scene today—the second day of the Paris fall collections — but she was not like the young nymphet heroine of Vladimir Nabokov's best-selling novel.

She was the creation of 27-year-old dressmaker Michel Goma. He showed a sophisticated, long-torsoed line to the world press today.

His skirts were a shade longer than last year — about half an inch — putting them about 19½ inches from the floor.

Lolita herself was a discreet but grown-up lilac daytime dress with a belt that dropped below the waist at back and a skirt gathered in front under a bow to emphasize the hips.

A companion dress was called "Nymphet." Both were more girlish than the series of sophisticated black dresses that followed.

These black dresses had backs bare to the waist, but high necklines in front. One of them had an overskirt which slit up the side.

Jean Patou's line is the personification of the "long" tall line. It makes a woman look slim, sophisticated and reed-like from the accentuated shoulder line to the long hipline, which tapers straight to the top of the calf.

Patou uses many bright reds, touches of dark purple, yellows and clear blues. But the dominating color tended to be brown . . . when it was not used in one of its variations, it accessorized an outfit. There was also a profusion of white used with black for later afternoon wear.

Patou draped bustlines for daytime wear. He revealed them for evening.

MIAMI, Fla.—Miami's bomb shelter honeymooners emerged from their bower 12 feet underground Sunday, blinking like owls at the sunshine they had not seen for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mininson were married July 12 a few minutes before they climbed down a steep ladder into the white cement enclosure seven by 6½ feet. The honeymoon was a promotion stunt for backyard bomb shelters.

"The first week went by like a breeze," said 28-year-old Mel.

"The second week we counted the days and hours. We could not wait to get out."

He grew a mustache and full set of whiskers while honeymooning 10 feet underground.

MOVED ON EGYPT

Israel forces invaded the Egyptian Sinai Peninsula Oct. 29, 1956, a week before British and French paratroopers struck the canal zone in the Anglo-French intervention.

Since the 1956 dispute, Egypt has barred the Suez Canal to Israeli ships and ships carrying Israeli cargo. The Danish freighter Inge Toft, carrying a cargo of Israeli potash, cement and marble, has been detained in port since last May.

Dayan urged last week that Israel meet Egypt "hostility for hostility."

In an article in the Jerusalem Post, Dayan said:

"I do not believe we can obtain any concessions from Egypt by diplomatic means . . . Egypt should know that as long as she maintains this policy of hostility toward us, we shall seek and find the right time and occasion to strike back."

NO PROVOCATION

But Dayan cautioned:

"I do not mean we should provoke an occasion or fabricate an excuse. This must not be done, and if it were, it would not stand the test of practical policy . . . our desire for peace and its over-riding importance is axiomatic."

Dayan quit the army to enter politics. He now is the leader of a large group of so-called "angry young men" in Premier David Ben-Gurion's socialist Mapai party.

Car Industry Enjoying Sales Bonanza

By WALTER BREEDE, Jr.

NEW YORK (AP) — Consumers kept the U.S. economy steaming toward record peaks last week. Many businessmen were betting that not even the steel strike could stop the boom.

Stepped-up consumer buying of just about everything held out the promise of record sales for dozens of major corporations.

The effects were already apparent in the auto industry, cashing in on its biggest sales bonanza since 1955.

Ford, Chrysler, American Motors and Studebaker-Packard turned in glowing reports.

PRODUCTION BOOMS

If Detroit was worried about the steel shutdown, this week's production figures didn't show it. More than 125,000 new cars rolled off the assembly lines, compared with 85,519 in the same week of 1958.

Signs of growing confidence among consumers showed up in the sales reports of companies making glass, chemicals, furniture, appliances, swimming pools, food products, shoes, cigarets, textiles and apparel.

Renewed consumer interest in apparel gave the textile industry its biggest lift since the war-inspired boom of 1951.

This week brought signs of upturn in the depression-plagued railroad industry. The Pennsylvania Railroad, which lost $25,353,012 in the first half of 1958, reported a profit of $6,298,659 for the same 1959 period. The New York Central, which also lost more than $25,000,000 in the first six months last year, chalked up a six-month net of $10,128,634.

Strength of Bank Shares Featured Week's Trading

By GERRY MARTIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Banks, the blue-chip dandies with the high price tags, dominated Canadian stock exchanges last week.

Aside from banks, the markets continued drifting with volumes lower and index moves small.

Industrials at Toronto managed to push their all-time index mark to 552.94, but on the week, industrials added little more than 1½ points.

Banks have very little affect on the index and here the week's strength lay. Six are listed on the board, but only one, Commerce, is among the 20 industrials making up the index. All six banks were higher.

Observers had a ready number of explanations for the strength of banks. First, there is a shortage of blue-chip stocks and those that are available are in demand. Also offered—banks are reportedly getting a bigger share of the small loan field, and the almost unanimous belief that earnings will be higher.

WAVE OF SELLING

Arcan Corporation, a $1.50 seller in January with a high of $8.62½ in June, was hit by a wave of selling Monday that saw the Hamilton company drop $4.95 on a turnover of more than 200,000 shares.

Arcan, manufacturers of ventilation equipment and a seller of non-food items to Independence Grocers Alliance, was removed from the trading list minutes before the open Tuesday. It closed Monday at $2.30 and was trading on the unlisted market Friday at $1.60-$1.65. Brokers and company officials were at a loss to explain the sudden price drop.

Steels recovered from their lapse of last week and pipelines, especially gas issues, were higher. Motors also showed strength on reports of increased half-yearly earnings.

Massey-Ferguson led the most active industrial list. However, it gained only 12½ cents at $15.75. Massey-Ferguson announced a deal whereby they would purchase the tractor plant of Standard Motors of England.

Index changes at Toronto: Industrials up 1.57 to $551.56; golds up .17 to 90.05; base metals off .21 to 174.76; western oils off .76 to 117.24.

Index changes at Montreal: Banks up .55 to 69.15; utilities up .2 to 154.9; industrials up 1.4 to 332.5; combined up 1.0 to 273.3; papers off 2.9 to 470.6; golds up 3.62 to 90.47.

TODAY'S GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP) — Flax prices scored new seasonal highs for all contracts today in active trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Buying was stimulated by reports of high temperatures on the prairie grain belt, regarded as unfavorable for areas where moisture is short.

Class two, IWA and domestic wheat prices, basis Lakehead, all were unchanged from Friday.

CHICAGO (AP) — Renewed reports of dry weather in parts of the northern plains had a firming influence today on wheat and rye prices on the Board of Trade. They advanced as much as a cent a bushel at times.

Dealers said there also appeared to be a slightly improved flour mill demand and a decline in hedge selling. Word that Pakistan and Formosa will be in the market for substantial wheat purchases this week attracted some export buying.

AT TORONTO, prices, amid sluggish mid-afternoon trading, were irregular today. Industrials showed gains but western oils lost ground.

Motors, rubbers, aircrafts, metals, rails, oils and tobaccos generally joined the advance. Some utilities eased.

U.S. Steel advanced nearly 2. Bethlehem and Republic Steel climbed close to 1.

AT LONDON trading was quiet and irregular today.

KANSAS CITY STAR'S ROY ROBERT FAVORS SUMMIT MEET

Famed Editor Calls War With Russia 'Fantastic, Impossible

War between the Western world and Russia "is fantastic and impossible, and I don't think there'll be one," famed U.S. newspaperman Roy Allison Roberts of the Kansas City Star said here today.

A behind-the-scenes power in American politics for nearly half a century, the 72-year-old pundit advocated continuing summit conferences to ease present world tension.

"I wouldn't have one summit conference; I'd have lots of them," he said.

He saw the current "spat" in Moscow between Vice-President Nixon and Soviet Premier Khrushchev as a wholesome rather than a derogatory development.

"Good spats help clarify the atmosphere."

Mr. Roberts admitted that any overnight reduction in U.S. defence spending would "jolt" the economy, but said the stimulant was not essential to the country's current high living standards.

Aid Roads, Health

"In the long pull, it would be more constructive to put money into roads, health measures. We could really help underprivileged nations.

Convinced there will be no war—"though we will not back down"—he looked on the present heavy defence outlay as a "transitory period" which though it may last for years would gradually "wear-off" as international problems were settled.

"I am a great believer in time," helping to reduce existing difficulties, he stated.

He saw little possibility of the U.S. recognizing Red China as it would be contrary to present U.S. public opinion, though "in time I think it will come."

For any U.S. politician to advocate this at the moment would be "political suicide," he predicated.

However, it was only "common sense" in the UN efforts to maintain peace to have all the world's countries in it.

Recognition would come about gradually, with trade feelers and then trade on a rising scale.

UN Peace Efforts

U.S. support of Nationalist China he termed "a symbol, and we couldn't back down."

He foresaw the day when Red China and Formosa would co-exist to mutual satisfaction.

Main world trouble spot, he maintained, was not the Berlin crisis but in the Far East as oil from there was vital to European economy.

"This is the key: Russia wants to control the oil."

Main fault of the U.S., he said, is that the country wants to see everything accomplished "overnight."

"It won't be done that way, but by evolution and understanding."

We Will Learn

"We will learn to settle down, like England, which has lived under guns for centuries."

Continual rehashing of world problems by so-caled commentators — dragging things to a boil—he looked on with quiet disfavor.

"If we had a moratorium or talk on both sides for six months, it might have a salutory effect."

Nixon Candidate

Mr. Roberts, who has covered every U.S. nominating convention since 1912, said Nixon would "unquestionably" be chosen as the Republican candidate as opposed to Nelson Rockefeller.

The vice-president, he stated, had all the qualifications excepting one: "He has never captured the imagination of the public."

But he had sat in on the front line of every major world crisis of the last six years, and, in Mr. Roberts' mind, would make a "good" president.

Mr. Roberts, a past president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, who has criss-crossed the world, said he had never had any individual political aspirations.

"I always figured I'd be more useful as a newspaperman than if I ran for office."

His definition of a good newspaperman was, in this order: "Sound legs, a good brain and the creative urge."

Vacationing Here

Today's president and general manager of the Kansas City Star, he is here until Wednesday with Mrs. Roberts on vacation. Then he heads for Jasper and Banff.

Retire?

"Never. It's my life and I love it."

VICTORIA, B.C., MONDAY, JULY 27, 1959 13

BACK "IN HARNESS" is 17,000,000-gallon Smith's Hill reservoir, built in 1912 by the city but little used in recent years. Almost 1,000,000 gallons were drawn off to maintain pressure in Victoria water pipes last week, first use of the reservoir in two years. Aerial photo, looking south-easterly, of the 350-foot square reservoir, at Summit and The Rise, off Cook, was taken by Bill Halkett. Water Commissioner Ronald Upward said today the reservoir will see increasing use as the area's population continues to expand. Regular "sterilizing" of the open reservoir's water is carried out with liquid chlorine by water board staff.

License Issued For More Power

Water licences for development of the Kokish River hydro potential of 51,500 horsepower, on northern Vancouver Island, have been issued to the B.C. Power Commission.

But construction will depend on power demand of the upper Island, and immediate demands are being met, B.C. Power Commission officials state.

Issuance of the water licence was revealed today in the power commission annual report. Any development would create another construction boom for Campbell River, 86 miles south, some officials believe.

The report says, "Preliminary plans and cost estimates show that cost of energy from this development would be lower than costs from any other known source."

But the commission will have an additional 20,000 kilowatts available to it in October without the Kokish. At that time a contract to supply B.C. Electric in Victoria to that extent, will terminate.

NEW SOURCES

The report shows the commission engineers are investigating six new sources of hydro in B.C. The Homathko region north of Bute Inlet, is being studied for possible diversion of Chilko and Taseko Lakes without endangering fishery resources on the system. This would boost the Homathko potential to 1,400,000 kilowatts.

Also under current study is the Clearwater system north of Kamloops. A water licence application has been filed. Studies are inconjunction with the Fraser River Board which is primarily concerned with flood control measures.

STAMP FALLS

Further development of the Somass River near Port Alberni is proposed in a new scheme for a power project on the Stamp River — a tunnel, canal and pipeline between Boot Lagoon on Great Central Lake and a powerhouse below Stamp Falls.

Department of fisheries is studying the scheme also.

The commission is also giving new study to the Nimkish River on northern Vancouver Island and further diversions into the Strathcona Development at Campbell River.

Early development of any of these sources will depend on new power demands. Acting general-manager R. C. McMordie says the commission is now "in an entirely sound position as to generating capability in all areas of operation, a position it has not occupied for the past several years."

35 Per Cent Hike In Electricity From BCPC

British Columbia Power Commission today reported an 18 per cent increase in revenues and ended the fiscal year March 31 with a surplus of $97,492. But a deficit this year is anticipated.

The commission's 14th annual report also revealed its customers bought and used 35 per cent more power than in the previous fiscal year.

The commission generated and purchased 1,600,000,000 kilowatt hours—an increase of 400,000,000.

Acting general manager R. C. McMordie said this was an "abnormally large increase," due in part to the absence of pulp mill strikes of the previous year.

Retail sales were up 10 per cent.

HIGHLAND DANCER Angus MacKenzie, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. MacKenzie, 1912 Allenby Street, Victoria, won three major awards in the international under-16 contests at the Caledonian Games in Vancouver Saturday. His prowess at the sword dance and highland fling won him the C. W. Beatty Grand Challenge Cup, the Isabel McLean Grand Aggregate Cup and the MacGregor Memorial Cup. Angus is a pupil of Adeline and Heather Duncan in Victoria.

Youngsters In Weekend Accidents

Six-year-old Lyle Newton, 2911 Queenston, is described as "improving" today at Jubilee Hospital where he was taken with head injuries after a fall from his bicycle on Ryan Street hill Saturday.

The boy was found by a passerby lying unconscious on the street and he was taken to hospital by city police.

Two other youngsters and a teen-aged driver went to hospital after traffic accidents in Victoria and Saanich Saturday and Sunday.

Terry Jackson, three, of 426 Parry, is in good condition at St. Joseph's where she was admitted for observation after she fell from a car on Millgrove about 8.30 p.m. Sunday.

The hospital said Terry received a head injury in the mishap.

Terrylynn Johnson, eight, of 2820 Gosworth, was treated at Jubilee Hospital for shock and a cut mouth and the 17-year-old driver of the car in which they were riding, for head injury and shock after a collision with a bus at Richmond and Oak Bay Saturday morning.

Police said the car went through a red light at the intersection. Bus driver was identified as Lloyd D. McCorquodale, 1620 Rowroyd.

98-YEAR-OLD DIES

She Knitted For Troops In Two Wars

Mrs. Annie Elliott, 98, resident of Victoria for the past 41 years, died Sunday in private hospital here.

She was born on a farm near Lucknow, Ont., one of 12 children, and lived there until she was 21, when she went to Minnesota to visit a brother. There she married a childhood sweetheart, A. W. Elliott, who was active in the real estate business after taking up residence here. He died here 12 years ago.

Mrs. Elliott was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and active in the church Women's Guild. She also was a member of the Order of the Easter Star and White Chrine of Jerusalem.

HELPED MANY

Her hobby was knitting, and during the First World War she knitted more than 200 pairs of socks. She then turned to knitting for welfare services, but when the Second World War broke out she went back to knitting for the troops.

Surviving are a brother, Donald McLean, of North Dakota, and nieces and nephews.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at 1.30 p.m. at Sands Mortuary, and will be followed by cremation.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today:

Nick Pope, 1250 Johnson, $25 and licence suspension for speeding over 30.

Marianne Zander, 1342 Pembroke, $10, and Mrs. P. Herbert, $40, for careless driving.

Robert S. Flegg, 1216 Styles, $10 for failing to notify Motor Vehicles Branch of a change of address.

'MIRACLE ESCAPE'

Tree Topples In Empty Park

High Winds Cause Land-Sea Trouble

A miracle or just plain luck saved dozens of children from death or injury this morning as a giant cottonwood toppled into Margaret Jenkins School playground.

Swayed by 40 mile an hour gusts the 100-foot trunk crashed down into the play area miraculously clear of neighborhood children.

The unseasonable high winds also made themselves felt in Juan de Fuca Strait and caused inconvenience to travellers when MV Kalakala cancelled its evening sailing Sunday due to rough seas.

Commenting on the felled tree, Mrs. Vivian Miles, 439 Richmond, said that "kids of all ages play softball and ride their bikes under and near the tree." The cottonwood was situated partly on her property.

"I just thank heaven that there were no kids in the school yard," she said, "which is most unusual for this time of year."

About 10.30 a.m. Mrs. Miles was doing her household chores when she heard a "rather peculiar crunching sound and I just thought it was the animals playing on the back porch."

"FIRECRACKERS"

"I thought it sounded like firecrackers," said daughter Linda, 14, who came out with her mother to see the wreckage.

Both confessed to a moment of panic until it became apparent that no children were under the tons of crumpled branches and foliage.

Tree was part of three separate trunks growing out of a common base in the extreme corner of the Miles' property next to the fence around the grass school play area.

STRAIT ROUGH

The master of the Kalakala cancelled out the 6 p.m. sailing from Port Angeles and the return sailing from Victoria because he decided the Strait was too rough for safety.

Sunday night also saw a 14-foot clinker-built inboard cruiser torn free from its mooring at Willows Beach. It was floated safely from Shell Island off Oak Bay at 8.30 a.m. today.

The craft, owned by Peter Spriggs, 928 Island Road, lodged on rocks of Shell Island during a wind storm and was left high and dry on an even keel until high tide today.

Winds continued strong again today, reaching 30 miles per hour on the average and 40 miles in gusts.

SMALL STORM

They were caused by a small storm moving southward along the edge of a high-pressure area now lying along the Pacific coast. It will give winds up to 20 miles tonight, and cloudy skies and strong winds again Tuesday morning. Tuesday afternoon will be mostly sunny.

Temperatures will remain cool, with the minimum overnight ranging from 48 to 52 degrees, and the maximum Tuesday reaching from 69 to 74 degrees, depending on location.

The high-pressure area is expected to bring a return of the high-hazard conditions prevailing in the B.C. woods a week ago, a B.C. Forest Service spokesman said today.

FIRE HAZARD

Conditions had been moderate for a few days, but the new fire hazard is expected to last until Thursday at least.

Firefighters are at work on eight fires in the Vancouver Forest District, which includes Vancouver Island. Two of these, at Knight Inlet and Stuard Island, north of Campbell River, were started by lightning strikes on the weekend.

Nasser Shakes Fist at Israel

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (Reuters) — The United Arab Republic put its naval might on display today following a threat by President Gamal Abdel Nasser to "exterminate Israel."

Nasser reviewed the fleet in a windup of celebrations marking the seventh anniversary of the revolution that overthrew King Farouk.

The UAR president made one of his most violent attacks on Israel Sunday night, the third anniversary of Egypt's nationalization of the Suez Canal. He said his country wants a decisive battle with Israel and "this time we will exterminate Israel."

Nasser referred to the Jewish state as a "crime established by treachery and imperialism."

In his bristling, confident speech, Nasser said he wanted to reply to what he called menacing statements from Moshe Dayan, former Israeli chief of staff.

"If Dayan is talking about a battle, we accept this challenge," Nasser said. "All Arabs want a showdown battle to wipe out the crime of 1948"—a reference to the creation of Israel.

"When they (Israel) attacked us in 1956 our orders were not to strike at cities, but in the next battle we shall erase Israel," Nasser declared.

LET THEM COME

He said Dayan was talking "insolently" about a new invasion.

"We await them and anybody else who may back them," said Nasser.

He cited the UAR's new industrialization program as grounds for optimism. He said the UAR soon will promise its own armored cars, tanks and planes.

"The industrial revolution in our country is a rope tightening around Israel's neck," he added.

Nasser was speaking at a ceremony commemorating Egypt's nationalization of the

Strike To Grow On Wednesday

One of the worst labor crises in B.C.'s history faces the province today with its two biggest industries completely shut down by strikes involving 32,500 workers.

No break was reported today in the three-week-old coast lumber walkout, while the province's complete salmon fishing fleet became idle after 5,500 fishermen went on strike Saturday.

Some 3,650 fish cannery workers and tendermen continued to work today to prevent fish spoilage, but will join the striking fishermen Wednesday.

United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union set 11 a.m. Wednesday as the deadline but said it would continue to handle fish unloaded at plants by midnight today "provided the salmon was caught prior to midnight Sunday."

The woodworkers and three fish groups all want more money, either in the form of direct wages or, in the case of the tendermen, as a bonus on the amount handled.

Two mainland lumber companies have broken away from Forest Industrial Relations and signed agreements with some 80 members of the striking coast woodworkers it was learned today.

Joe Madden, president of Local 1-357 in New Westminster of the International Woodworkers of America, told The Times both companies agreed to pay wage increases.

Huge Forest Fire Licks At Village

ST. BERNARD DES LACS Que. (CP)—A blazing forest inferno, whipped madly by winds gusting to 40 miles an hour today threatened to destroy this remote Gaspe community.

The villagers were told early today to flee their homes in government trucks as the forest fire nibbled at the outskirts, demolishing four or five farm buildings.

Other small communities in this rugged woodland area of the Gaspe Peninsula were reported in fear that the spreading holocaust may also engulf them unless rain halts the flames.

"The situation is alarming," said Mayor Edouard Keable of nearby Cap Chat, a town of 2,000 people on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River.

SPECIAL SESSION REJECTED

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks today rejected a proposal by Opposition Leader Robert Strachan that B.C's current labor unrest should be dealt with in a special session of the Legislature.

The minister said the only step the legislature could take would be to order compulsory arbitration in the fishing and lumber strikes.

"But this has not been acceptable to this point. If Mr. Strachan is proposing this, why doesn't he say so. I can only presume that is what is in the back of his mind."

FUN ON THE MOSCOW RIVER

Bathers swarm around motorboat carrying U.S. Vice-President Richard Nixon and Soviet Premier Khrushchev on cruise down Moscow River Sunday. Easygoing mood kept up throughout trip as many swimmers came up to shake hands with leaders.—(AP Wirephoto.)

Nixon Treated Warmly Despite 'Runaround'

(See Page 7)

LENINGRAD (UPI)—U.S. Vice-President Richard Nixon got a friendly welcome to Leningrad today. But after a "runaround" in touring the Soviet ice breaker Lenin, he put the pressure on and saw to it that Vice-Adm. Hyman G. Rickover got a thorough look at the vessel.

Rickover, who had complained after a one-hour tour of the nuclear-powered ship that he was getting a runaround, was invited to stay longer. After staying for another three hours, he said:

"I could see everything I wanted to see. They asked, 'were you satisfied?' I said, 'no, but I'm pleased.'

"I don't think any American has had the opportunity to see what I saw. I am the first American to have the opportunity to see the entire (reactor) plant."

'They've Done Good Job' Says Admiral

Rickover said the 1,600-ton ship has three reactors which are no more advanced in design than our reactors. The design is adequate for their purposes. You can't say that one type of reactor is superior to another."

He added that "they have nothing new in the way of electronic control. They are trying out these things. They have done a very creditable job and served their purpose. They have done a good job and I suggest that you (the reporters accompanying Nixon) say so in your stories."

Nixon flew here from Moscow on a Soviet TU-104 jet on the second leg of his "peace and friendship" swing through the Soviet Union.

Nixon, Mrs. Nixon, and the rest of his entourage got a hearty welcome from some 1,500 persons at Leningrad airport along with Soviet first deputy premier and Mrs. Frol Kozlov, who at the last moment were surprise additions to the passenger list.

On his arrival Nixon told the crowd at the sun-drenched airport that he and Premier Khrushchev agreed during their talks that "differences between nations must be settled at the conference table and not on the battlefield."

"So my message to the people of Leningrad from the people of the United States is peace for all the world," Nixon said.

Castro in To Cheers Of Million

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro was swept back into the Cuban premiership Sunday night by an enormous popular demonstration he had called for the purpose.

The spectacular crowd estimated at nearly 1,000,000 cheered wildly as he told them he would bow to "the will of the people" and resume office.

The sea of humanity sent up reverberating cheers as Castro, by inference, told off critics in the United States.

The 32-year-old revolutionary leader asserted that Cuba is not a protectorate or colony of any other country but a free sovereign nation and "we have to account to no one."

Castro said Cuba wants to be friends with all nations but cannot be with those "who offend us, who insult us and who exploit us" or with any vested interest which tries to "impose itself on the destiny of our people."

In 2½ hours of talk, Castro did not mention Communism. He referred to it only obliquely, when hitting at his critics, but apparently did not feel it necessary to deny their charges that he is letting the Reds influence his government.

PEARSON URGES SUMMIT NOW

MONTREAL (CP) — The Geneva foreign ministers' conference should be ended and a summit conference held as soon as possible, former external affairs minister Lester Pearson said Sunday.

"It seems that Mr. Khrushchev is reserving all the big decisions for himself, so the Western powers might just as well meet him at the summit now," Mr. Pearson told a press conference before sailing for Europe.

RUSSIANS UNBENDING AT GENEVA

GENEVA (UPI) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko failed today to give a hoped-for indication that Russia was ready to agree to a Berlin truce with the West on other than Soviet terms.

Gromyko conferred for two hours over lunch with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. Reliable big four conference sources said the Russian did not produce an anticipated move that might break the Geneva deadlock and perhaps point toward a summit meeting.

The meeting came in the ninth gloomy week of the talks. Only this weekend the U.S. and Britain shelved their wide-open differences on summit policy and began to press the Soviets for a quick Berlin solution.

Toronto Among Five Cities in: 3 More Needed

NEW YORK (CP) — Formation of a third major baseball league, with five founding cities including Toronto was announced today.

The five founding cities are New York, Houston, Toronto, Minneapolis - St. Paul and Denver.

It would be known as the Continental League and expects to operate in 1961.

William Shea, chairman of Mayor Robert Wagner's baseball committee, said the league would have a minimum of eight clubs and there could be more. He said it would play a 154-game schedule.

In addition to the five founders, Shea said the following cities were interested: Buffalo, Montreal, Atlanta, New Orleans, Miami, Indianapolis, Dallas-Fort Worth, San Diego, Portland, Seattle and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Each of the five founding cities put up $150,000, to be deposited in the treasury of the new league.

One of the stipulations in the organization was that each city should provide a ball park which will seat at least 35,000 fans.

Minneapolis announced it could reach this figure with very small expansion.

New York and Houston plan to build new stadia. Denver is ready to expand its present park facilities. Toronto is starting negotiations with city officials on the matter of a new park.

READY TO SPEND

Jack Kent Cooke, president of the Toronto club, said he was prepared to spend $2,500,000 to make a success of his team's entry in a third league.

"That is twice the money I offered to buy the Detroit Tigers," he said. "It is my money. It is not the city's."

Cooke said he believes Toronto would support a major league with the same zeal Milwaukee fans back up the Braves in the National League.

"In five years we should be playing in the world series," he said.

Shea said he hoped to have two or three more cities lined up by August 18 when his league meets with a seven-man committee from the major leagues, including the commissioner, Ford Frick.

It was estimated that each club would be ready to invest $2,500,000 in addition to making its deal for a baseball park.

Western Big 3 Plan Early Meet

GENEVA (Reuters) — Russia and the three Western powers today agreed to draw up an Eastern and a Western agreement and to exchange them Wednesday, a French paper on an interim Berlin agreement and to exchange them Wednesday, a French spokesman said tonight.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Diplomatic sources said today that President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and President Charles de Gaulle of France probably will meet in Paris in late August or September.

The sources predicted the Western Big Three would get together either to prepare for a summit conference with Russia if an agreement for a summit meeting is reached at Geneva, or to discuss strategy if the Geneva talks fail.

The informants said that the Western chiefs probably would meet in late August if the foreign ministers' conference breaks up in complete deadlock and the Berlin crisis is intensified.

No firm agreement has been made for the Western Big Three talks but diplomatic sources said the plan has figured in high-level discussions of the allied steps to follow the Geneva talks.

A western meeting probably would be held simultaneously with a NATO heads-of-government meeting.

In either event, the sources said, this would enable Eisenhower and de Gaulle to meet and hold their long-postponed discussion of the U.S.-French disagreements.

SWEETHEARTS INSURED

No Love Lost

BIRMINGHAM, England (Reuters) — Latins may be lousy lovers, but worried English swains aren't taking any chances.

They're taking out insurance on girl friends who vacation on the continent just in case they fall for those dilated nostrils and impassioned looks of foreign Romeos.

One Birmingham insurance broker reported that 200 young men had taken out policies which pay £1,000 if their fiancees break off the engagement and marry a continental.

Premiums are highest for girls between 17 and 25—30s for £100—and lower for those from 25 to 30. Women over 30 are considered a safe risk.

SAFETY WEEK FOR HEAVY INDUSTRY

First "safety week" in the history of B.C.'s heavy construction industry will be held the week of Aug. 3, with Premier Bennett invited to launch the campaign at a ceremony at Workmen's Compensation Board headquarters, Vancouver.

The Premier will raise a "no accident" flag, and similar flag-raising ceremonies will be held at 65 heavy construction projects throughout the province.

Last year 27 workers were killed in the industry and 813 injured.

. . . FISH STRIKE

South Westminster, employing 50 IWA members, signed to pay the final 12 per cent figure (21 cents an hour more) demanded by the union shortly before the strike began July 6.

Brownlee Industries, also of South Westminster, will pay its 3 IWA shingle mill employees the original 20 per cent (another 34 cents an hour) demand.

PAYMENTS

Meanwhile, the union district office in Vancouver today was drawing up plans to give strike relief payments to members in need.

Secretary George Mitchell declined to say what would decide which members will receive the money.

"It will go to those who get it," he said. "That's all I will say."

Earlier, the union said married men would get $14 a week plus $3 for each child; single men $8 a week. But certain conditions had to be met first, including picket duty.

The strike entered its fourth week today with no sign of a change in the yield-never stand adopted by both sides.

The bill to the provincial economy so far is estimated at $42,000,000.

Meanwhile, the salmon fishermen, who voted 80.5 per cent in favor of a strike in an earlier vote, brought in a 68 per cent vote for strike action in a second ballot counted Sunday.

Homer Stevens, secretary of the UFAWU, said today the drop in the "for" vote was due to "last-minute high pressure tactics of the companies."

STRIKE VOTE

But he said the strike vote this year showed 14 per cent more ballots than were cast in the August 1958 vote.

The second vote Sunday was on new fish prices offered by B.C. Fisheries Association—21 cents a pound for coho (20 cents offered earlier); 10½ cents for pinks (10), and 8½ cents for summer chums (8).

Meanwhile, Mr. Stevens said the strike begun noon Saturday may be a long one, and that the union had the funds to sustain a lengthy walkout.

He said there was no regular strike pay, but local union officials had instructions to help members in need.

He said salmon fishing would continue for members' families, and some fish would be sold directly to the public at dockside, the money to go into the union strike fund.

Four main companies are represented in B.C. Fisheries Association. They are B.C. Packers, Canadian Fishing Co., Nelson Bros. Fisheries and ABC Packing Co.

Forty per cent of the Fisheries Association interests are owned by the H. R. MacMillan Ltd., one of the big companies involved in the current coast loggers' strike.

Bob Mouncer of Elma, Wash., had Saturday's hottest round—a par 72—and wound up low in the 9-14 handicap flight with a 158.

Ian MacFarlane of Chilliwack placed second to Mouncer with a 160.

THIS SHOULD KEEP BOYS QUIET

Male members of noted fishing family will probably speak more quietly of angling prowess around home after June James' efforts at Cowichan Bay Sunday night. She reeled in 29¼ and 17¼-pound salmon while husband, Dick, could only manage 18-pounder. Even son, Ricky, seems impressed although he won playground derby at Ogden Point breakwater last week with two-pound rock cod and landed 31-pound Tyee to win Port Alberni junior salmon derby last summer. June earned rung in Cowichan Bay ladder derby with larger fish. Dick, 1956 winner of event, had earlier earned rung with 26¾-pounder.

PARIS PRESENTS THE LONG LOOK FOR FALL

Lolita's the Fashion—But Modest

PARIS (UPI) — Lolita hit the high-fashion scene today—the second day of the Paris fall collections — but she was not like the young nymphet heroine of Vladimir Nabokov's best-selling novel.

She was the creation of 27-year-old dressmaker Michel Goma. He showed a sophisticated, long-torsoed line to the world press today.

His skirts were a shade longer than last year — about half an inch — putting them about 19½ inches from the floor.

Lolita herself was a discreet but grown-up lilac daytime dress with a belt that dropped below the waist at back and a skirt gathered in front under a bow to emphasize the hips.

A companion dress was called "Nymphet." Both were more girlish than the series of sophisticated black dresses that followed.

These black dresses had backs bare to the waist, but high necklines in front. One of them had an overskirt which slit up the side.

Jean Patou's line is the personification of the "long" tall line. It makes a woman look slim, sophisticated and reedlike from the accentuated shoulder line to the long hipline, which tapers straight to the top of the calf.

Patou uses many bright reds, touches of dark purple, yellows and clear blues. But the dominating color tended to be brown . . . when it was not used in one of its variations, it accessorized an outfit.

There was also a profusion of white used with black for later afternoon wear.

Patou draped bustlines for daytime wear. He revealed them for evening.

Printer Strike Plan

LONDON (UPI) — Hopes soared today that Britain's printing strike would be solved soon on the basis of a "peace" plan that would give printers a 42-hour week and a 4½ per cent wage hike.

TAIPEI (UPI) — Chinese Communist artillery today shelled the main island of the Matsu offshore island group, dropping 263 shells on the Nationalist outpost in 49 minutes.

. . . CASTRO

Uptown Havana's vast Civica Plaza was packed with the shouting, cheering throng. Castro told it emotionally that from now on the "symbol of our revolution will be the machete" — the long, sharp knife used for cutting sugar cane.

The announcement provoked furious response during which some 400,000 campesinos — farmers — brought from the provinces to swell the demonstration, clashed their machetes together in unison to add to the general uproar.

Castro whipped up another ovation when he added that if his enemies should ever think of coming back to Cuba: "Let them contemplate for just about five minutes those machetes."

Castro made it clear that such mammoth demonstrations will be held whenever it is considered necessary to demonstrate popular support for his policies. Sunday's, officially celebrating the anniversary of his 26th of July revolutionary movement, was called originally to demonstrate support for his land redistributing program.

Thousand Doves, Candy From Sky

Castro said it was only the will of the people that persuaded him to resume the premiership he left nine days ago to force the resignation of provisional president Manuel Uruttia.

The first announcement of his return to office came from President Osvaldo Dorticos, Urrutia's successor. It set off a wild, jubilant ovation, with the campesinos joyously throwing straw hats into the air. Castro had announced he would leave the decision to the people.

Enormous showmanship went into making the rally the spectacular thing it was. Gimmicks included the release of a thousand doves as Castro made his appearance and release of hundreds of red, white and blue balloons trailing the black and red colors of the 26th of July movement.

Planes and helicopters zoomed low overhead, dropping small, multi-colored parachutes containing candy.

QUEEN RESTS WITH A BOOK

PORT HOPE, Ont. (CP)—The Queen and Prince Philip read for relaxation today as they began a quiet day of rest at Batterwood House, the summer home of Governor-General Massey near this Lake Ontario town.

They will leave for the RCAF station at Trenton on Tuesday, and fly to Fredericton, N.B., to begin a tour of the Maritimes.

Forest Fire Raging

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—A fire of undetermined origin was burning out of control 10 miles northwest of here today as firecrews gained the upper hand over two other blazes.

BACK TO BAD OLD DAYS

'Red Capitalist'

VIENNA (AP) — A 480-member delegation from Red China arrived for the Communist-sponsored world youth festival opening here Sunday and presented "one capitalist."

He claims to be making as much money out of his chemical factory in Tientsin now as he did "before our liberation" by the Communists in 1949.

Western reporters asked the "capitalist," Wang Kuang Ying how he did it.

Wang Ying proceeded:

"Before the liberation in 1949, I was a people-exploiting capitalist and I made too much money.

"Then I was re-educated.

"Then I regained the confidence of our great people.

"Then I was given back my factory and became manager.

"Now I am a capitalist again."

Asked how much money he makes now, he replied: "Same money I made before the liberation."

Wang Ying said he gets 150 yuan a month plus an annual five per cent interest of the capital invested in his factory.

A skilled worker gets 70 yuan.

Wang Ying said this was "very, very good income. After all, a ready-made suit costs only 90 to 100 yuan."

The yuan is quoted at 2.61 to the dollar.

MacKay Drops Giant-Killer

HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP) — Power-hitting Barry MacKay of the United States chopped down giant-killer Ian Vermaak of South Africa 9-7, 10-8, 6-0 Sunday, successfully defending his Pennsylvania lawn tennis championship.

South Africa, however, earned half a loaf as her tennis queen, Sandra Reynolds, rallied to defeat fellow countrywoman Renee Schuurman 1-6, 6-1, 6-4. The women met in the first all-foreign women's final in the 60-year history of this tournament.

Vermaak fought his way into the final Saturday with a starring 6-2, 6-4, 6-2 victory over U.S. Davis Cup ace Alex Olmedo.

SHIP AWAITS EVACUATION

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—A schooner was waiting off fire-threatened Port Hope Simpson, Labrador, today to evacuate fire-fighting crews in case a raging forest fire turns back on them.

Resources Minister W. J. Keough of Newfoundland said although the wind was blowing the fire away from the settlement, it had gained another mile during the weekend.

Luis, Yolanda Win

GSTAAD, Switzerland (AP) —Luis Ayala of Chile defeated Sweden's Jan-Erik Lundquist 6-1, 6-2, 6-1 to win the men's singles final of the international tennis tournament Sunday.

Yolanda Ramirez of Mexico won the women's singles, defeating Mary Reitano of Australia 7-5, 6-1.

U.S. Swim Team Wins Meet in Japan

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — The United States swimming team defeated Japan 37-33 in a two-day meet ending Sunday as three world records were set.

Records were bettered in the 200-meter butterfly by Mike Troy of Indianapolis, Tsuyoshi Yamanaka in the 400-meter freestyle and by the Japanese 800-meter relay team.

REAL ESTATE

By Don Whyte

We are always pleased to present the buying public a home which offers a little more. Mr. F. A. Robinson has designed and built a home which offers a great deal more.

Freddy has created on ⅔ of an acre Uplands lot an outstanding example of contemporary architecture. He has blended this home into the hillside to create secluded, sheltered patio areas and to take advantage of the view of Mt. Baker.

The many modern materials have been developed with harmony: Vermont slate, selected wood panelling, wallpapers, wall-to-wall carpets, exquisite matching light fixtures to name a few.

The plan is completely functional with four distinct areas. The master bedroom and den are separated from the main core of the house. The main core contains the three family bedrooms and bathroom. The kitchen, utility and family room, and the magnificent living room and dining room.

The kitchen is completely equipped with the latest in Westinghouse appliances. The bathrooms are ceramic tile from floor to ceiling. There are a myriad of cupboards and closets.

For modern family living it is indeed a dream home. The address is
